Fields: 'Sullivan seeks wrong spot'

by GLORIA DAVIS
NEWS EDITOR

Since Frank Sullivan, Antioch area open space advocate who is opposing incumbent Antioch Twp. Sup. Jim Fields in the spring election, has raised the Red Wing Marsh-Lake County Forest Preserve controversy as an election issue, Fields' answers to Sullivan's charges could add fuel to the issue's fire.

In an open letter to residents of the township, Sullivan lambasts Fields for his actions in last month's fight concerning the proposed acquisition of the Red Wing Marsh-Deer Lake areas off of Deep Lake Rd. by the Lake County Forest Preserve.

The forest preserve withdrew the proposal after several emergency meetings crowded with many Antioch area residents, some from the immediate neighborhood in question.

Sullivan claims that one of the main duties of the township supervisor, "is to protect the environment wherever possible and to promote the accessibility of parklands and natural resources to all citizens."

Sullivan claims that the "supervisor must stand ready to take positions on development issues to ensure that we all benefit from the best standards and qualities of life."

Fields says that Sullivan better look again at the job description of the seat he is running for in April.

"The township has no say so in laws concerning zoning and building, that's up to the county. Sullivan would have no say so in the main issue he's raising if he is elected in April," says Fields.

Fields does not agree with this "kloutless" role that township supervisors have been relegated to.

"I was active in trying to get legislation passed a few years ago that would allow townships the right to file a legal objection to land actions within one-and-one-half miles of their borders like villages do, but we couldn't get it passed, Fields added.

"If Sullivan wants to have a say so on these things, he should either have had his property annexed to the village and run for the village board or else get involved in county government," says Fields.

Sullivan claims his original involvement in the Red Wing Marsh controversy was to spearhead a request from the Antioch Twp. Assn., which he heads, for the forest preserve to acquire the 200-acre Bailey Horse Farm for conservation purposes.

Sullivan says "when I approached the incumbent supervisor (about the Bailey farm purchase) he declined to take any action or even explain why he would not back such a purchase."

Fields says that the main reason he so declined was that only 10 percent of those 200 acres are wetlands and do not fall into a conservation category, and he told Sullivan this was why he was declining.

Fields adds that he feels that this request was mainly self serving on Sullivan's part since the acreage of the Bailey Farm is very close to Sullivan's property and acquisition by the forest preserve would not only stabilize, but increase the value of his property.

Fields says that the only reason he knows about, and participates in these environmental issues is that as a County Board member, he is also a forest preserve commissioner, reiterating that his position at the head of the township board has nothing to do with his environmental activities.

Sullivan charges that Fields' successful opposition of the acquisition of the Red Wing Marsh area has "left Antioch Twp. with virtually no public parkland or forest preserves despite the area's population growth."

"He seems to be forgetting about the thousands of acres that make the Chain O'Lakes State Park which is in the township and Gander Mtn.," says Fields, adding that he has backed many forest preserve land acquisitions.

To Sullivan's charges that Fields ran afowl of his own constituents on the forest preserve board during the controversy, Fields admits that he did oppose the acquisition "as it was presented" because he was against the forest

Sales tax dollars help to offset local costs

by JOSEPH SOULAK
News Correspondent

Sales tax is an important source of revenue for most Illinois communities. Those in Lake County are no exception.

The hundreds of thousands of dollars received from the state each year goes into the general fund. It is used to buy such things as new equipment, pay salaries, insurance premiums and the other day-to-day expenses of government.

Sales, alone, does not pay for all of this, but it goes a long way toward keeping the tax rate down.

In the case of Lake County communities, sales tax receipts are on the increase. This is due to the rising economy, growing number of businesses collecting sales tax plus more people making purchases and paying the sales tax.

Whether it be a bagful of groceries, new car, home-delivered pizza or part for a snowblower, the state collects 6.5 percent on the purchase. Of that amount, the Lake Villa's, Lake Zurich's, Wauconda's and Fox Lake's get 1 percent.

Sales tax is collected and reported in 10 categories: (1) general merchandise, (2) food, (3) drinking and eating places, (4) apparel, (5) furniture, home appliances and radio, (6) lumber, building and hardware, (7) automotive and filling stations, (8) drugs and other retail, (9) agriculture and extractive and (10) manufacturers.

Following are total sales tax collections by community for 1988 and some of the revenue by selected category.

Citizen Utility Board prepares for election

The Citizens Utility Board (CUB) has certified 16 candidates for seats on the CUB Board of Directors open in 13 Congressional districts throughout Illinois, including Dist. 12 in the Lakeland area. Nancy Peterson of Crystal Lake is running unopposed. Ballots will be sent to CUB members in three districts, where more than one candidate is vying for the seat.

Election ballots will be sent out March 1 to over 15,000 CUB members in districts with contested races. Ballots must be returned and postmarked no later than March 31, in order to be counted. The directors will be certified by the board at its regular meeting April 15.

The CUB Board sets the policy and direction of the organization and directors represent CUB at speaking engagements and public events. One board member is elected by dues-paying CUB members in each of Illinois' 22 Congressional districts.

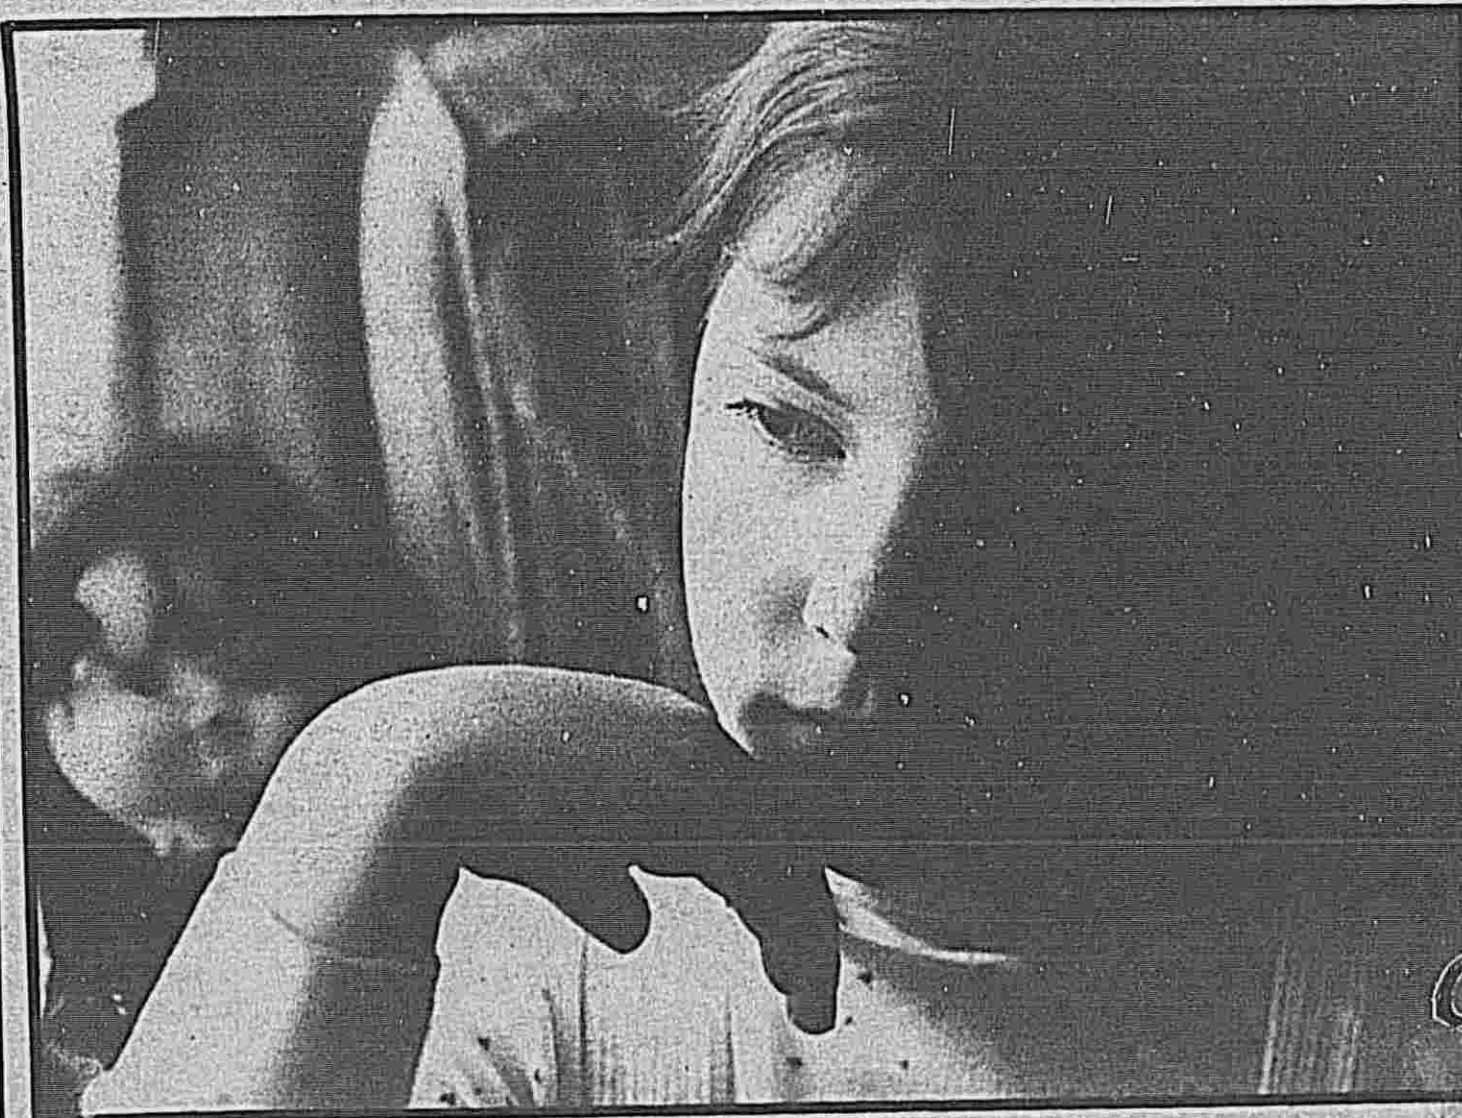

Board seats are open in the first, second, third, fifth, seventh, ninth, 11th, 13th, 15th, 17th, 19th and 21st Dists. In addition, seats in the 12th and 16th Dists. are vacant due to the resignation of two current board members.

Alcoholics do not suffer alone . . .

We get hurt, too.

Alcohol and drug abuse afflicts an estimated 59 million Americans, young and old, male and female. And the number of people whose lives are affected - even endangered - by an alcoholic is even more alarming. People like employers, co-workers, neighbors, friends, spouses and, most regrettable...children. Did you know, for example, that a child with one alcoholic parent has a significantly greater chance of developing alcoholism than the child of non-alcoholic parents?

At Victory Memorial Hospital, we're helping alcoholics (and their friends and families) recognize and understand their illness. Victory offers unique outpatient and in-hospital programs. And we have specific programs for the chemically dependent adult or teen.

If you need help, or would like to learn more about the disease of addiction, call Victory's 24-hour resource line at 688-HELP. We can help the hurting stop. Call today.

OK school plan

Ted Sanders, state superintendent of education, has informed Dr. Donald Skidmore, superintendent of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 that the school improvement plan submitted by the district has been approved. The district was given the go-ahead in implementing the school improvements. By state law all schools will start with reading improvement plans. The plans are based on the reading test scores and their individual evaluations made by the principals of the schools in the district. Next year math is scheduled to be added to the improvement plans.

Antioch High School has new crest

The Antioch High School Board of Education has approved the Antioch Community High School crest, which had been developed by the executive board of the senior class during the past few months.

Scott Reimers, president of the senior class at ACHS, explained how the crest had previously been approved by the other class executive boards and the student council and also had the approval of the teaching staff and the administration.

The crest will be used on graduation announcements and the graduation diploma. No official crest existed prior to this year.

Janet Matalas, of the Professional Services, Inc., of Kenosha, Wisc., and Mrs. Joey Freund and Tim Noonan of the guidance department at ACHS presented to the board a detailed explanation of services available to students concerned with the issue of chemical dependency.

The meeting concluded with the board of education voting unanimously to organize a task force to further study this issue and to make recommendations for expanding the school's program.

Supt. Gary Allen reported that the 75th Anniversary Committee was currently developing a history of Antioch Community High School booklet that would be printed and sold during the 1989-90 school year. Allen requested and the board approved budgeting of $2,500 to help support the 75th Anniversary activities.

On other business, Allen reported that the Class of 1933 had made a donation to the school to purchase a library book in memory of former English and history teacher Cornelia Roberts.

Administrator's job-hot election issue?

by GLORIA DAVIS

What are the necessary qualifications for a village administrator, what should his powers be, and does it make a difference if he is appointed before or after the coming election?

The Antioch Village Board has been considering an ordinance establishing the job of village administrator with the retirement of present Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz approaching this spring.

Antioch Mayor Ray Toft and the board have said that Sterbenz has been performing the job of an administrator for years.

Upon her retirement, the job of village clerk will become an appointed one, not an elected one as it has been.

The idea is for the clerk's duties to be purely clerical and for the new administrator to continue doing the job, plus other duties, that Sterbenz has done in her over 20 years at the village hall.

Although the appointment of the new administrator is expected to be made by those who sit in the mayor's and trustees' seats after the April election, Mayor Ray Toft and other trustees have already "picked their man" by giving vociferous support to Tim Wells for the job.

Wells took over as public works administrator when Todd Maplethorpe retired a few years ago.

At the last regular board meeting, Trustees Robert Wilton and Don Amundsen questioned the ordinance under consideration that gives the new administrator hiring and firing powers.

"That would give him more power over the village staff than the mayor and trustees," said Wilton.

The board is considering ordinance changes on such matters before presenting a final draft.

Wilton also raised the question of Wells' qualifications for the job, since he does not have a college degree in public administration or related fields, "as do all of the village administrators in Lake County."

According to Toft, "most of the people on the village board and on the village staff do not have college degrees. In this case, I don't think education means as much as Tim's experience at the water works, in the sewer plant, and now in the village office."

"He's extremely capable and I think it would be a shame to overlook him for someone from out of town. He at least deserves a try," added Toft.

Resident Justine Lubkeman told the board that she felt that "Marilyn did not have the same responsibilities as she has now when she started the job, she grew with it over a period of years."

She adds that the new administrator needs the proper qualifications now because he won't have a chance to grow with the job."

Wells' possible appointment to the job she has been doing was defended by Sterbenz who said, "I think that Tim, who has been a local resident and worked for the village for a long time, is well qualified for the job. He has years of expertise gained on the job that are more important than a college degree."

Among the 30 people in the audience present at the board meeting was Al Little, developer of Village Homes. Little said, "I have more faith in a person like Wells, who has worked in many of the village's departments, than a person whom some college professor has taught to dig in someone else's hole."

Little added that the higher the formal education, the more salary demanded, and "he'll be here just long enough to learn about the town and leave."

Wilton countered this remark with the fact that Jim Stevens, village administrator for Lindenhurst has been there for four years and Ken Marabella of Mundelein has been on the job for 15 years and many other municipalities have had the same administrator for a reasonable length of time.

Toft claims that it is hard to compare Antioch to other municipalities, many who also have an assistant administrator, since Antioch has such a high tax base compared to its population.

As far as the rest of the board is concerned, long-time Trustee Vern (Barney) Barnstable said he was for the Wells appointment as did Amundsen.

Trustee Mabel Lou Weber was not at the meeting and Trustees Rod White and Ron Cunningham voiced no opinion on the Wells matter.

Although no salary for the village administrator has been mentioned to date, Sterbenz said she felt that one with a degree would demand a salary far above what a village the size of Antioch could pay.

Stevens, who has a degree in city and regional planning and an undergraduate degree in urban geography, started in an administrator's capacity at Lindenhurst for $35,000 per year, others employed by larger municipalities command larger salaries.

"At present, Wells' salary is at $32,000 per year, in the same ballpark as many degreed administrators of communities of our size," said Wilton.

Toft agrees that Wells would probably get some kind of a deserved salary raise if appointed.

The ordinance creating the administrator's position could be voted on at the next village board meeting on March 6. It was thought that the actual appointment of an administrator would be left up to the next mayor and board, but Toft feels that the appointment might possibly be made when and if the ordinance is approved at the next meeting on March 6;

"The entire board was for training Tim for this position last year. The majority of the board must OK Tim's appointment if I make it. If Wilton is elected mayor he will have to get the approval of the majority of his board before he can change the appointment," said Toft.

There are three open trustee seats with three newcomers Marilyn Shineflug, Larry Hanson and Ed Koziorowski challenging board members White, Cunningham and Barnstable.

Ice melting means boating

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(312)395-5380

Before you know it, the ice will be gone from the area lakes and the boating season will be upon us.

All boating enthusiasts should circle the dates March 1 through March 5 on their calendars. The Midwest Boat Show will be held at the O'Hare Expo Center in Rosemont.

Fox Lake Harbor will have a booth at the show, and Allstate agent Don Fechtner will be on hand at the booth to handle boating questions concerning insurance. Don has 30 years

The following students at Grass Lake School received the Brave of Week Award, which is given for fine citizenship, courtesy and general good behavior:

Kindergarten - Albert Bucar, Dana Glewicz, Ryan Hansen, Jenny Hart, Adam Kleich, Brandy Kuenhold, Lee Morrison, Lindsey Mastalerz, Nicole Melendez

turnout of parents at the regular board of education meeting at Grass Lake School, on Valentine's Day no less, this certainly does not describe the parents in School Dist. 36. The school board was faced with an important decision, and the board room was filled with parents who cared. I think all those who attended the meeting should be commended for taking time out of their busy schedules. In my opinion, this speaks well of our community and school.

Etc., etc., etc...

It is amazing how alike husbands and wives become after lengthy marriages. This is certainly the case with Mr. and Mrs. James Seeless of Antioch. It seems fainting spells run in the family. After Mr. Seeless had his spell during an eye exam, Mrs. Seeless had a similar episode at the dentist's office. She is telling everyone a tooth extraction was the reason for her wooziness. However, according to my sources, she was only there to have her teeth cleaned.

Congratulations to Mike and Laurie Young on the birth of their new son, Jason.

Pam Clarke, of Antioch, is very happy at the prospect of becoming a mommy again. New baby Clarke will make "his" way into the world sometime in July.

I spent a difficult evening in the presence of Fran and Paul Adelizzi. Boy, do they know how to play the part of proud grandparents-to-be.

Once again a special hello from the Lizard to a few people. Remember, if I say hello to you via the column, then you must call me with your news tidbits. Hello to Pam Colletti, Ed Kenyon, Renate Vlezien, Phyllis Wagner, Susan Anderson, Robin Edelman, Alice Fleming and Mark Franzen.

Mark happens to be a whiz at stumpers for the game Win, Lose or Draw.

When you call, remember to "Ask for the Lizard".

School open house

Antioch Lower Grade School is having an open house for parents and new kindergartners who will begin school in August. The date and time of the kindergarten orientation is March 8 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. The upcoming scholars will get to meet and talk with the teachers and, also, to tour the school.

Don't forget the PTO Family Portrait Day at the Antioch Lower Grade School. The dates of this function are Friday, Feb. 24, and Saturday, Feb. 29. You can participate in this event even if you do not have children attending the school. Remember, an appointment is needed, and $5 will buy you a beautiful 10-by 13-inch portrait. Call Sue Beinecke at (312)395-8063, or Linda Halpin at (312)395-4986 to make an appointment.

Grass Lake honors

The following sixth graders at Grass Lake School made the second quarter honor roll:

Beth Boerman, Wendy Charvat, Sabrina Day, Josh

and Brandon White.

First grade - John Coia, Carrie Dunfrund, Jeannie Heinowski, Jason Loneragan, Megan McHale and Ryan Pinkowski.

Second grade - Chrissy Charvat, Christina Flasch, Becky Holloway and Shelly Holloway.

Congratulations to all you good Braves of the Week!

More school news

The K-5 students and teachers at Grass Lake School would like to thank all the room mothers who made the Halloween, Christmas and Valentine class parties so much fun. The games were fun, the snacks were delicious, and the special prizes were terrific. Thank you, room mothers, we couldn't have done it without your help.

Above and beyond, the fifth grade classes would like to give a very special thank you to Jim and Irene Utians for all the beautifully bundled treats they sent to the parties, from kindergarten to present. Also, the beautiful goody-filled stockings at Christmas time will never be forgotten. Thank you both for your gracious gifts of love.

Oftentimes we hear the term "apathetic" in regard to parental involvement in our schools. After the huge

Jaycees get state honors

The Antioch Jaycees were recognized by the Illinois Jaycees and the North Region Jaycees for their outstanding efforts in the last quarter.

Members recognized were Todd Stolarik as an outstanding Jaycee for the third quarter, Candie Petrolli was recognized as the Outstanding Region Staff Member for the month of November by the region and the Outstanding Region Programming Chairman for the third quarter by the Illinois Jaycees.

Ed Kanabay was recognized as an Outstanding Jaycee for the month of November by the region, and John Mazurek was recognized as the Outstanding President for January by the region.

Three of the chapter's projects were recognized by the Illinois Jaycees; the Voter's Registration Project and the Extension of Jaycees into the neighboring town of Grayslake took second place and the state level and the Jaycees participation in Antioch's Fourth of July Parade took first place.

These awards are based on paperwork the chapter sends to the state.

The Antioch Jaycees were also recognized as Parade of Chapters are awarded based on timely submission of paperwork and chapter performance.

Sequoits prepare for regional tournament

by PETER RECHENBERG

The Antioch Sequoits' boys basketball team is preparing for the Round Lake Regional Tournament which they will be entering as the second seed. The Sequoits are 5-2 in their last seven games and their two losses came on the road. Round Lake will be hosting the regional tournament, and Grayslake is the number one seed. Grant will be the Sequoits first opponent in the tournament and they will play on Monday, Feb. 27 at 8 p.m.

The Sequoits are peaking at the right time according to Head Coach Jeff Dresser. "The regional tournament is going to be up for grabs," Dresser said. "We've played well in our last seven games and we're peaking at the right time."

The Sequoits' last home game of the season was a 59-47 victory over the Fenton Bison. The Sequoits got down 6-0 early in the first quarter and Dresser said that was because of the jitters. "It was our Parents Night and the last home game for our seniors, so we were a little shaky in the first few minutes," Dresser said. "We scored five quick points and that put us back in the ball game. After we scored a few points the jitters disappeared."

Matt Pelland scored a team-high 20 points and pulled down 18 rebounds. Scott Gooch, Jeff Becker and Brad Nauman each chipped in with 10 points.

The Bison were very patient on offense in the first half, but in the second half they started to rush their shots and that helped the Sequoits get their running game going. "We scored some transition baskets and we extended our lead," Dresser said. "They had to foul us because we had the lead and we made 13-15 free throws in the fourth quarter and that really helped us. We played good defense and we didn't make any mental mistakes."

The Sequoits lost to the Zion-Benton

ZeeBees on a last second shot the next night. "We had the ball with :14 seconds left and we ran the offense well, took a good shot, but it wouldn't go down," Dresser said. "We got an offensive rebound and we couldn't get that to go down either."

The ZeeBees got the rebound and called timeout with four seconds left. They received the ball at halfcourt and threw up a last second shot that went in. Dresser thought the ZeeBees should have got the ball at their baseline instead of at halfcourt. "They got a very generous spot by getting the ball at half court," Dresser said. "They got that extra second because they started at half court and that allowed them to get a shot off. It really wasn't a good shot; he just threw it up there and it went in."

Ryan Coskey had a good shooting night for the Sequoits as he scored 20 points and hit 6-9 three pointers. Becker had 13 points and Pelland chipped in with 11 points.

Warren wins NSC title at Antioch's expense

By STEVE PETERSON
SPORTS EDITOR

It's time to break out the brooms at Warren Twp. High School.

For the varsity basketball team completed what the sophomore squad started a couple of hours earlier - both earning North Suburban Conference championships with wins over Antioch.

The varsity and sophs both used strong defensive showings.

The varsity surrendered less than 40 points for the second straight game in a 52-39 win.

"Our goals before the season started were to win 20 games, win the conference and win the regional. Anything after that is great," Warren Coach Darrel Bader said as he was congratulated by Warren fans.

The Blue Devil program has had the best winning percentage in Lake County for the last dozen years and the 20-5 record, 15-3 in the NSC, will only help those totals.

The title is the fifth shared or outright in the last seven years for Bader and the Blue Devils. The other two times, Warren was second.

The contest was senior night, with all the introductions, etc. that entailed. And add to that some intangibles such as Antioch's winning ways of late and large Sequoit following (as well as several Grayslake players) there was some reason for concern.

But in the end, the seniors were not to be denied. Forward Nick Stianos contributed 18 points and a strong defensive game against Antioch's Scott Gooch.

"His favorite moves are to the baseline and we worked on that all week," Stianos said.

Stianos was tabbed by Bader as one of the "three solid players" back from last year's Elite Eight.

Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser, whose team heads into the Round Lake regional at 13-12, 10-8, praised Stianos.

"He has been one of their steadiest players in the last couple of weeks," Dresser said.

Stianos said he had to work on his rebounding and defense most at the start of the year.

Gooch finished with 14 points to lead the Sequoits, but six came on three-pointers long after the issue had been decided.

"They had more to lose than we had to gain," Dresser said.

Dresser said Warren's defense took away both the outside shooting of Ryan Coskey and Gooch and the inside attack as well.

"If they come out 19 feet we should be able to work the ball inside," Dresser said.

But the Blue Devils denied this, swarming over center Matt Pelland, who was held to nine points. Pelland had scored 20 two games earlier.

The Blue Devils also had a sizeable margin in rebounds, 34-18 with Corey Statham leading with 18.

American based in Japan sees where 'east meets west'

by CECIL B. NEWBERRY

As fog marches in from the Sea of Japan, you can almost see old Samurai warriors moving up to stop the advancing enemy. Today, Japan's modern Samurai is Air Force Staff Sgt. Kenneth Ireland.

Ireland, son-in-law of Janet Weiss, of Antioch, is a special vehicle mechanic at Yokota Air Base on the main island of Honshu.

"I supervise one military person and two Japanese civilians to ensure that all 19 fire trucks on base are in excellent condition to provide fire protection for the base and aircraft that land here," said Ireland.

Located 28 miles west of Tokyo, Yokota Air Base is just minutes by air from Vladivostok and Soviet military forces. The Americans and the Japan Air Self-Defense Force are the island's first line of defense.

Japan, known as the 'Land of the Rising

Sun,' is rich in history and tradition. But, it is also one of the fastest growing technical and industrial nations in the world. The two facets of Japan create a contrasting view for the Americans stationed there.

Tokyo, where "East meets West," is one of the largest modern cities in the world today. It is a combination of Hollywood, Chicago, New York and Washington, D.C. Tokyo is the nation's capital, and home to the entertainment, transportation and financial centers. Although Tokyo is a city of over 12 million people, it is relatively crime and violence free.

"Living in Japan allows me to learn about the culture and customs of the people. I also have learned to appreciate a lot of the things I used to take for granted in the states that these people don't have," said Ireland.

"I have a lot of problems with the language here, but my biggest problem is trying to move throughout the country without the fear of getting lost."

Less than 40 years ago, the United States and Japan were locked in battle all over the Pacific. The people of Japan, with their Geisha girls, Buddhist temples, bamboo groves and rice paddies, were as mysterious to Americans as the land they called home.

However, today, Japan and the United States are allies, and economic leaders in the world. Japanese and Americans live and work side-by-side, developing mutual understanding and cooperation.

"The Japanese have just as many different types of people that we Americans do. I will say however, they are for the most part very friendly and helpful," said Ireland.

Ireland, 25, is a 1980 graduate of Niagara Falls High School, Niagara Falls, N.Y. His wife is Lori L. Ireland of Antioch.

Time Machine

TWENTY YEARS AGO: Feb. 27, 1969

Antioch Mayor Ray Toft and the village trustees were addressing the problem of lack of space in the village's municipal buildings. Possibilities under discussion included the purchase of the old roller rink for village hall space; building the police station in front of village hall; and building offices on top of the present fire department.

Residents of the Grass Lake area were strongly opposing the rezoning request made to the county by Thomas and Carol Steiskal, to change zoning on property southeast of Grass Lake Rd., from urban residential 3 to CR Commercial, for the purpose of constructing a marina.

Kevin O'Neill, Karen Walker and Pat Holimon were junior class officers at Antioch High School.

LaVergne Newton graduated from the real estate institute. She was working at Poe and Poe Realty.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO: Feb. 28, 1974

The Sequoias won the cage conference title by whopping Grayslake.

Antioch High School Board of Education incumbents, Dr. Al Bucar, Bob Lindblad and Betty Meyer were all seeking reelection.

TV meteorologist Harry Volkman told members of the Antioch Woman's Club that "Antioch is the ice box of Illinois."

Senior citizens Esther and Philip Aini were vacationing in Florida.

TEN YEARS AGO: March 1

Mrs. Ray Lorenz was chairman of the 1979 Antioch Mental Health Coalition at which the Scotch Lads were playing.

Sue Koppa, former Antioch recreation director, received the Distinguished Service Award as Antioch's most Outstanding Young Person in 1978 from the Antioch Jaycees.

Dixie Sparks, a newcomer to Antioch, was named the new Chamber secretary.

Lisa Davis, Theresa Weber, Sherry Volling and Karla Bolton lead the Emmons Grade School girls basketball team to dominate the DesPlaines Fox Valley Conference.

Knolls forum March 8

Ron Vetere, president of the Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Assn. has announced that the association is sponsoring a candidates forum on March 8, to be held in the lobby of First National Bank of Antioch at 7 p.m.

This event is open not only to members of the association, but all interested persons are encouraged to attend. Vetere said that all candidates for Antioch Twp. office as well as Village of Antioch are being invited to participate.

Several of the candidates will be given an opportunity to formally address those in attendance. There will then be an opportunity to ask any of the candidates questions concerning their views on the issues facing the Antioch area followed by an informal coffee hour.

Vetere indicated that the Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Assn. wants to use this event to give the community an opportunity to become better acquainted with the candidates and their views. This should result in a better informed electorate and a stronger community.

Board OK's plough

The Board of Education of Antioch Elementary School Dist. 34 has approved the purchase of a used truck for snowploughing to be bought for $16,050. This will replace the 1958 GMC truck now being used.

The board also agreed to a raise in next year's text book fees at: kindergarten, $18 and first through eighth grades will be paying $30 for books.

The board has not raised textbook material fees for the last three years so now the fees so they do not cover the cost of materials.

The board will also be budgeting $20.95 for K-5 students supplies and $14.25 for AV/Library materials.

For sixth through eighth, supplies will be $25.14 and $14.25 for library materials. Duplicated materials are an added $2.50 per student.

Mechanics' pow-wow

Air Force Staff Sgt. Kenneth Ireland talks with one of his Japanese mechanics about a starter that needs to be put into one of the fire trucks that Ireland maintains. He is a special pupose mechanic at Yokota Air base, Japan.

BEST FOOT FORWARD FROM THE OFFICE OF DR. PAUL ABLER UNWANTED SPURS

It is not uncommon for men and women to develop spurs in their feet. These are small calcium growths that extend from bones of the foot.

Strain on foot muscles is believed to contribute to formation of the spurs. Shoes that don't fit properly or prolonged standing can worsen the condition.

The presence of spurs may not be immediately evident to the affected person. But sometimes the spurs produce severe pain.

When the podiatrist diagnoses the presence of spurs, the condition may be treated in several ways: shoe inserts for comfortable foot support, or drug injections, or surgery in occasional cases.

Millikin Honors

Four Millikin University students were named to the Deans' List from the Lakeland area for the first semester. They are Garret Hammond of Antioch, Michelle Rolseth of Hainesville, Shannon Blair of Mundelein and Kristin Prio of Wauconda.

To be eligible, students must earn at least a 3.5 grade point average on a 4.0 scale and complete at least 12 graded credit hours.

Hammond, a freshman art/music major, is a son of Gerald and Carolyn Hammond of Antioch, and a graduate of Antioch Comm.

High School.

Rolseth, a junior biology major, is a daughter of Penny Hammitt, rural Hainesville, and William Rolseth, Salem, Wis., and a 1982 graduate of Grayslake High School.

Blair, a senior elementary education major, is a daughter of Sue Coit of Mundelein, and a 1985 graduate of Deerfield High School.

Prior, a sophomore theatre/design major, is a daughter of Hollis and Lynn Prior of Wauconda, and a 1987 graduate of Wauconda High School.

This page recognizes Lakeland area students who have excelled academically at their respective schools. Lakeland Newspapers congratulates all Dean's List students and graduates for their accomplishments.

Bellwether election

Tuesday, Feb. 28, can well be looked upon as a bellwether on the question of open space and environmental concern that is shaping up as an issue in practically every municipality in Lake County in the spring election.

That day Republicans and Democrats in Waukegan and North Chicago will be holding nominating elections in preparation for the April 4 municipal balloting. One of the Democratic candidates in Waukegan has made the future of a parcel on Belvidere Rd. a campaign issue. Don Weakley's opposition to commercial development of land sought by the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. for preservation purposes as the keystone of his race for the Democratic nomination for mayor and eventual election as mayor. Weakley successfully has turned his candidacy into a referendum on open space.

Waukegan isn't the only community where open space and environmental concerns constitute election issues. Grayslake and Hawthorn Woods are two communities where avowed open space tickets are on the ballot. At least two of four slates running in the Elia Twp. election are open spaces. In Antioch Twp., voters will have a clear cut choice for supervisor on how the candidates stand on development. Incumbent Supv. Jim Fields is pro-growth. His challenger, Frank Sullivan, stands for preservation of open space. In neighboring villages and townships, candidates had better be prepared to take a position because voters will be asking questions about growth and development.

Let's face it. The open space environment issue is the Question of the '80's—and the '90's. It won't go away.

Letters To The Editor

We can have both
Editor:

My position on the Rte. 53 extension is, I am sure, the same as the majority of Lake County residents—yes. Yes to Rte. 53, and yes to open land protection. Both can be achieved by planning, working together and passing laws and zoning ordinances to attain both. We can have our cake and eat it. Let's take the money and run, build Rte. 53 and protect the open land with laws and zoning restrictions.

At the Lake Zurich meeting on Jan. 25 approximately 2,250 signatures on petitions were reported to have been presented which were opposed to Rte. 53 from the communities of Hawthorn Woods and Buffalo Grove. The Citizens for Open Government conducted a survey of the residents of Wauconda. The results: 67% for, 10% against, and 23% undecided. The population of Wauconda as of 1986 is 5,950 (census), 67% of 5,950 is 3,986 for Rte. 53. Take the above 2,250 and 595 from Wauconda (10%) against and you have 2,845 against. The majority is still in favor of Rte. 53.

If Rte. 53 is not put through and you want to know what we will have to look forward to, try driving south on Rte. 53 of Lake St. during evening rush hour. I know what it's like, I lived in Carol Stream for a year and sat in traffic. What is the definition of progress (a dirty word?)—"movement toward a goal".

Thanks should be given to Martin Buchler and Delmar Powell of the Lake County Div. of Transportation for their insight and hard work in the name of progress (not a dirty word). They have the best interests of Lake County at heart and in mind for the good of Lake County. Let's take the money and run while Big Jim Thompson is willing to let us have it. Together we can have both Rte. 53 and open space protection—all we have to do is work together.

Board saving the land
Editor:

There are two sides to the coin when it comes to principle in the question of land acquisition by the forest preserve. One side acknowledges that a man's land is sacred onto himself. The other side of the coin requires an acknowledgement of man's responsibility to the society in which he lives and the land he owns.

Let us dismiss those individuals and groups who invest in land for mere profit. They have no feelings for the land; they are nothing more than computers programmed to seek the most money. They have no principles except to gain so they should be ignored in their protestations in the acquisition fight because they are strangers in our land. But those who have been raised on the land and worked the land are whole human beings, feeling the seasons, breathing the earth, touching nature's heart and soul, understanding the great gift God gave us called earth. I empathize with these people in the land acquisition fight. I sincerely believe that, should they consider what our beautiful Lake County will be in 20 years from now, they would turn their hearts toward saving the land they own and love.

History is not on their side when they protest, they want to keep the farm for their family. For all their hope that the family farm will remain as is, it will not happen. Even if their immediate family managed to hold on to it, put the hard work into it that is required (and few of the modern generation, so close to an easier living, would be willing to do this), when it comes time to divide the booty at the time of their death, the farm will be sold to the highest bidder - the rapacious developer of course.

Those of us who own land must protect its integrity. The Forest Preserve District of Lake County goes to great length to protect the interests of those truly loving their land. Don't listen to the special interest development adversaries. They are only intent on saving our lovely Lake County from death.

'No right to dream'
Editor:

If you are the kind of person who would scrimp, save and sweat to buy a dream, the Lake County Forest Preserve Board will show you how to break your heart and take it from you.

One board member said they weren't holding a gun to our heads. No, but when a person's health goes bad because of the pressures of losing something you worked hard for and dearly love, it's like being stabbed with a knife.

One board member, John Reindl, owns land in the middle of the property that the Forest Preserve Dist. wants in Fremont Twp. Why Aren't they taking his land? He said he has lived there for 27 years and no one is going to take his land from him. Is it because he is a board member, or what?

If you let board member F.T. "Mike" Graham designate all this land and lock it up for 40 or 50 years, our grandchildren will still be paying for it.

There sure won't be any work here as he designates all the land he wants to designate. No farms, no food, no work, no people. Just wildlife.

It's Ladies Day in more villages around county

by BILL SCHROEDER

If voters so decree in the April 4 local elections, more women than ever will be serving as the chief executive of area municipalities. In the term now winding down, 11 of 49 municipalities were governed by female mayors. That figure will swell to 13 if women are successful. One community, Round Lake Hts., is a cinch where Madeline Romich and Sandra Morris are running for mayor.

Of the 11 female mayors elected in 1985, eight are running for another term. Incumbents include Joyce Frayer, Lake Villa; Evelyn Cooper, Lincolnshire; Verna Clayton, Buffalo Grove; Elaine Palmer, Green Oaks; Nancy Smith, Lake Barrington; Paula Morrison, Lakemoor; Anna Markley Bush, Barrington; and Adeline Geo-Karis, Zion.

Other communities where women are contesting for mayor include Fox Lake, Margaret Paul; Grayslake, Melinda Willen; North Chicago, Pat Cansler; Vernon Hills, Barbara Williams; and Libertyville, JoAnn Eckmann.

Women long since have proved that they can hold their own in government. In this locality, at least, more and more voters free comfortable with a woman running the show in city hall. It'll be interesting to see if the trend continues.

SYSTEM WORKING—State Sen. Jack Schaffer has first hand knowledge that Illinois' "no exemption" jury system is working. Schaffer was called in McHenry County and rearranged his busy legislative schedule to serve. "I was looking forward to being a juror," Schaffer stated. So he was somewhat chagrined when excused by a defense attorney on a peremptory challenge. "The case was a lawsuit involving two of my constituents. Being excused was a letdown, sort of like being classified 4-F when you were ready to go into the Army," the senator related.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Pop is wondering if age can be gauged in a man by the frequency he sends neckties to the cleaners. The idea, of course, is that as years roll by, the more prone a man is to spilling. Something to think about.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK

This year's Republican Federation dinner could see somewhat of a nationwide political coup. If things go right, Vice President Dan Quayle will be the keynote speaker.

The annual parade of GOP bigwigs will be Friday, May 12, at the Holiday Inn in Mundelein.

"Quayle has been invited," Federation President David Amory said. "Right now I would say it looks good. At this point we haven't been turned down."

If Quayle shows it will be his first full-blown party appearance since taking office. And it will give him the honor of being the No. 1 political figure at the 27 years of dinners and speakers.

Guests of honor in past years have been Kansas Sen. Robert Dole, New York Cngr. Jack Kemp, Tennessee Sen. Howard Baker and former Sec. of Defense Donald Rumsfeld of Illinois.

Some words of praise were showered on his colleagues by Robert Neal at the last County Board meeting. He took time to thank those who sent cards and prayers during his hospitalization earlier this month.

"I know John Balen was praying for me to get out," Neal then joked, "but not quite so soon."

Some people just can't seem to act their age. One of them is the man who is supposed to be the biggest Republican in Lake County, Robert Neal.

Chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee, he also wears other hats. Like Newport Twp. supervisor, County Board member and the Illinois Tollway Authority.

Robert Neal Dan Quayle

It is on the County Board where is acting a little immature for his age.

For the February monthly meeting seating arrangements were reorganized. This is done by seniority. The closer to the front and center, the higher in the pecking order. For this and future meetings Neal's nameplate was moved over a few chairs in the second row—right next to the four-member Democratic coalition on the board.

Two board members include Debbie Halas and Audrey Nixon. Others are board veterans John Balen and Sam Payne. None of these people minded the company. But Neal apparently did.

He picked up his nameplate and carried it to the last row next to that of the two other new board members—Suzi Schmidt and Roberta O'Reilly. "This is where I am going to stay," Neal proudly proclaimed.

To which Payne added: "Mr. Neal may learn something back there from the new members. We couldn't teach him anything."

Lakeland Newspapers Lake County At A Glance

Sewer decision due

LAKE ZURICH—Monday's Public Works Committee meeting could be decision time for Lake Zurich. Several members of the County Board will attend to ask the village board for a decision about joining a planned expansion of the Riverwoods regional sewerage treatment plant 10 miles to the east. Both the village's southeast and northwest treatment plants are on a "watch" status by the state because they are at or near capacity. Connections continue at subdivisions such as Cambridge Estates and Chestnut Corners under permits issued in past years.

Lakewood grows

WAUCONDA—Lakewood Forest Preserve will grow by 478 acres as the result of action this week to purchase 438 acres of adjoining farmland from Laurie Epstein and 40 acres from Peter Tekampe. The acreage borders the forest preserve on the north and Village of Wauconda on the west. The purchase blocks Wauconda from annexing the property or growing to the east.

Mr. T as mayor?

LAKE FOREST—Mr. T of "A Team" television fame and the movie "Rocky III" says he is a write-in candidate for mayor of Lake Forest. Owner of the former Armour estate on N. Green Bay Rd. since 1986, he ran into a barrage of criticism for his 1987 chain saw massacre of large oak trees on the property. The village board subsequently passed a tree preservation ordinance. The job of mayor held by Marshall Strenger, pays $10 annually.

Consider Wells

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Village Board is in the middle of passing a village ordinance creating the position of village administrator. Mayor Ray Toft and some of the trustees are promoting Tim Wells, public works administrator, for the job. Wells' possible appointment is being questioned, based on the fact that he has no college degree in public administration as most village administrators in Lake County do. If Wells is approved, the board is expected to pass the ordinance and appoint Wells administrator at its March 6 meeting.

Recycling benefits

MUNDELEIN—Costs for disposal of refuse continue to rise, and although curbside recycling programs such as the one being implemented in Mundelein won't bring down garbage pickup rates, they will keep these rates from increasing as rapidly. According to Mundelein Mayor Colin McRae, this cost savings is a main reason the village has opted for curbside recycling, which will be available to residents living in single-family homes. He sees two prime monetary benefits from both this program and the land application of sludge and leaf compost the village has done for a decade: 1) Landfill space will not be used up as quickly, which will benefit people throughout Lake County; and 2) Landfill tipping fees, therefore, will not increase as rapidly.

Bleachers for 2,750

PRAIRIE VIEW—New bleachers for the football stadium seating about 2,750 additional people have been approved by the Board of Education of Stevenson Dist. 125. Seating capacity at the field had been about 1,300, and last year, despite cold weather and a team lacking a winning record, there was not enough seating to accommodate all spectators at some of the games, said Supt. Milton Herzog. He cited that Stevenson currently has 1,800 students, and that continued growth has led to larger crowds at games. A new press box also will be added, Herzog said. The current varsity bleachers will be moved to the visitor's side of the field to make room for the new seating.

Businessmen meet

GURNEE—The Gurnee Businessmen's Club will hold a meeting March 2 at Gurnee Holiday Inn. Reservations should be made by calling the village hall at (312) 623-7650. The meeting will begin at noon.

Riley resigns

PARK CITY—Park City Police Chief Gerald Riley will resign April 1. The city council accepted the resignation. Riley will take vacation time in March. Lt. Mike Luff will be in charge when Riley is on vacation.

Delay decision

NORTH CHICAGO—No decision was made at the North Chicago Community High School Dist. 123 board meeting regarding the possible closure of the school due to financial problems. Board President William Fortune said an announcement will be made when the board meets at 7 p.m. March 1.

School referendums

ROUND LAKE AREA—School Dist. 116 Supt. Dr. Clifton A. Houghton spread out the budget dilemma facing Round Lake Schools at the Chamber of Commerce meeting. Houghton said he now will leave the dilemma in the hands of the voters. Two referendums will appear on the April ballot for classroom and cafeteria additions, and a second referendum will ask for an increase in the education fund tax rate.

Litigation pursued

FOX LAKE—The Village of Fox Lake unanimously voted to pursue litigation against three residents not conforming to its water main ordinance. The ordinance requires residents who have a water main in front of their houses to hook up to that main. The village originally sent notices to 20 residents, but 17 have responded.

Mayor acquiesces

THIRD LAKE—Actions taken by four board members have forced Mayor Paul H. Ericson to reverse his stand of developing the 26-acre MacKay farm. Ericson said he understands now that he misrepresented their feelings.

District squeezed

GRAYSLAKE—A study compiled by the State Board of Education will be presented at 7:30 p.m. at the Dist. 46 board meeting Thursday, Feb. 23, at the Junior High School. Dist. 46 board members will have to consider "which hard choices to make," said Supt. David Duffy, in addressing classroom shortages in the district.

Gander Mountain Inc. announced sales increases of 26 percent and a net earnings increase of one percent for the second quarter ended Dec. 31, 1988. For the quarter, sales were $40.3 million. Pre-tax income was $2.8 million. Ralph Freitag, chairman and president, said the most significant factor affecting the increase was the increased performance in two of the company's subsidiaries, Master Animal Care and Western Ranchman Outfitters.

Zion

More than 60 executive and support staff personnel of American International Hospital have relocated their offices to the Zion-Benton Pearce Campus at 1606 23rd St. in Zion. In addition to the corporate staff, accounting, billing, collections, data processing, human resources, marketing, public relations and medical records have also moved to the newly-renovated, three-story building. According to Robert Lane, president and CEO, the school district and the community will benefit from the lease agreement which provides new income to the district.

Stokoviches care for elderly for 40 years

by KIMBERLY BOLTON
BUSINESS EDITOR

Slavko and Dorothy Stokovich, owners of Libertyville Manor Extended Care Facility, are celebrating their 40th year caring for the elderly.

The Stokoviches started in the geriatric field in 1949 by opening Lake Villa Nursing Home. After running it for 28 years, they were unable to comply with the newest changes in life-health safety codes and, in 1977, decided to move their facility to Libertyville.

The Stokoviches have had a lot of family support in their endeavors. Their three sons, John, Milan and Nick, all majored in business and work in full-time positions at the nursing facility.

"We naturally grew into it by helping out wherever we could," Milan said.

The sons' aunt, Gina Gamble, and cousin, Olga Bjerines, also help run the family business by managing the offices.

Slavko, 79, still works eight to 10 hours a day at the manor. Dorothy, a retired nurse, helps out wherever she can, but especially enjoys hosting parties for the residents, according to Milan.

The Stokoviches have planned to celebrate their anniversary in a big way. They are opening new facilities that revolutionize care for the elderly as it is known today.

Libertyville Manor has been expanded so that it will be one of the leaders in a new wave of nursing homes that are combining care for the elderly with care for the young—a trend that "gives the best of both worlds" to each group, according to the Stokoviches.

Libertyville Manor has been more than doubled in size. A new wing was added to house intermediate and extended care patients upstairs, with a day care and a pre-school for children downstairs. The wing is joined with the original building by a great round room which will be the meeting place for the two groups.

According to Milan, the addition was decorated in a way that would stress residential appearance. The 'great room,' as the Stokoviches have been referring to the round room in the manor's center, is decorated in hues of teals and peach with traditional cherry furniture and a classical grand piano. The room is surrounded by windows which makes it extremely bright and is full of greenery.

The new patient's rooms are all oversized for easy movement of wheelchairs and, like the great room, are furnished with traditional cherry that in no way resembles most people's idea of hospital furniture. All the rooms are carpeted and decorated in the same scheme of blues and mauves, but each one is done differently so the residents will recognize it as their own.

"The big thing today is yes, you may have a health care problem, but you don't want to be reminded of it constantly," Milan said.

Downstairs is not only the pre-school and day care center with space for 100 children, but a modern beauty and barber shop, and an old-fashioned ice cream parlor with a small gift shop. There is also a speech, physical, and occupational therapy center with the most up-to-date equipment including a kitchen to re-teach stroke victims to function in their own home.

According to Milan, the Stokovich family became aware of the changing atmosphere of the health care industry and looked for innovative ways to update their facility. The idea of putting children together with seniors comes from a Denver nursing home and greatly appealed to the family.

The Stokoviches believe that the interaction of children and seniors will (continued on page 18)

Home prices in Chicago trail national leaders

Home prices in Chicago were high by Midwest standards but well below home prices reported in the Northeast and far West last year, reports Chicago Title and Trust Co., the nation's leading insurer of property titles, in its 13th annual survey of recent home buyers.

The Chicago Title study, which tracks housing trends in 18 representative housing markets nationwide, reveals the median home price in Chicago was $117,600 in 1988. Nationally, the median home price rose 23 percent, from $99,260 to $121,910, with prices highest in the Northeast and far West and lowest in the South.

New York City was the national leader with a median price of $192,600, followed by San Francisco, $179,700; Orange County, Calif., $168,100; and Boston, $165,100. At the low end were Cleveland, $76,800; Memphis, $77,900; Orlando, Fla., $83,000; Minneapolis, $85,000; and Seattle-Tacoma, $85,600.

John Pfister, Chicago Title vice president and manager of market research, said the median price is a midpoint with an equal number of homes selling for more and less. Historically, it has reflected the price that is closest to what most people pay for a home.

For 1988, Chicago Title increased the number of buyers surveyed in the national study threefold to create statistically valid samples for each of the 18 markets surveyed. Markets included in the study were New York City, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington, D.C., in the Northeast corridor; Atlanta, Orlando, Dallas-Fort Worth and Memphis in the South; Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and Minneapolis in the Midwest; and Los Angeles, Orange County, Calif., San Francisco, Denver, Phoenix and Seattle-Tacoma in the West.

Pfister said the average home price (total sales dollar volume divided by total sales) in Chicago last year was $131,000 and the average monthly mortgage payment was $885. For those buying for the first time, the average price was $98,900 and the average mortgage payment was $758. Repeat buyers paid an average of $147,300 and had an average monthly mortgage payment of $960.

Nationally, the average price was $145,500 and the average monthly mortgage payment topped $1,000 for the first time.

In Chicago, the average monthly mortgage payment as a percentage of household income was 28.3 percent compared with 32.8 percent for the nation as a whole.

Pfister said one in three buyers in the Chicago market was buying for the first time in 1988. Repeat buyers accounted for 66 percent of all sales here compared with 62.2 percent nationally.

Management awareness increases temp demand

by KIMBERLY BOLTON
BUSINESS EDITOR

The use of temporary services is increasing throughout the area, according to a survey conducted jointly by Personnel Journal and the National Assn. of Temporary Services.

The survey says that changes in the business climate have warranted the increased demand for temporary workers, who have more than doubled since 1980 to 1 million employees in the United States, or one percent of the U.S. workforce.

"American managers are simply now becoming aware that it's good management practice to use temps. It's less expensive." — Marshall Claassen

Temporary services have reacted by becoming increasingly specialized to meet the wider spectrum of business needs. They are not only drawing office workers, but also people in the fields of health, engineering, accounting and manufacturing who like to choose their own hours and move often.

The advantages of hiring temps as reported in the survey are greater flexibility in scheduling, economy, speed, increased production, and elimination of workplace politics. Trial employment was noted as the biggest advantage.

Marshall Claassen, owner of an Express Service franchise in Vernon Hills, attributes the growth of temporary agencies to an increase in awareness.

"American managers are simply now becoming aware that it's good management practice to use temps. It's less expensive," Claassen said. "It's an evolving thing. Information snowballs on wise use; we improve and become more efficient."

Claassen said that businesses save money by using temps because full-time employees end up costing an average of 40 percent more than their base salary after taxes and compensation benefits have been paid.

"By using a temp, you don't have the legal liability that goes with hiring a full-time employee," Claassen said. "In addition, you can keep them on for the duration of the need. When you don't need them, you don't unemploy them."

Chuck Bartels, owner of four Manpower Temporary Service offices in Lake County, agrees that hiring temporary workers is cheaper for businesses because they do not have to go through the expenses involved in the hiring process, nor do they have the legal liabilities that go along with hiring full-time people.

Temporary agencies act as middle men in the hiring process by assuming the expense involved. Many agencies also spend a great deal of time and money on training and testing their employees so that they are better able to meet the challenges presented at each job.

Manpower, the largest temporary help corporation worldwide with $4 billion in 1988 sales, claims to be the market leader in training and testing. Manpower has developed its own word processing training software as well as tests for skill and agility of industrial workers.

Express Services also has its own tutorial software, as well as a word processing evaluation program automated to assess the capabilities of a temp in 15 different software packages.

According to Claassen, some of Express Service's tutorial programs can take up to seven hours to learn.

"It's the American way working at its best. The training we provide enables them to increase skills and capabilities. It's a win-win situation all around," he said.

Why do temporary agencies spend big bucks on training and testing their employees? The answer is service. The better the match of employee with position, the happier their clients will be. Manpower claims to be the first agency to guarantee that unhappy customers will not be billed.

Others have followed Manpower's lead including Express Services, which guarantees that its customers will be satisfied in the first four hours of the temp's day, or they will not be billed.

Claassen believes the industry will continue its strong growth pattern. "It's not a fad. It's a change in the way of doing business," he said.

Terri White, evaluations supervisor for Kelly Services in Libertyville, assists Maryjo Gresko with training.

Stokoviches

not only be therapeutic to the seniors, but will teach the children the value of co-operation, socialization, and sensitivity to others. They are aware that this method of therapy won't work for all seniors and that all children may not want to be involved. But, there will be activities such as music, art, crafts, and story telling to bring them together.

"It's all strictly voluntary, but we hope they'll be drawn to one another," Milan said. "It has to be a mutual relationship between them."

In the original facility, which accommodates 100 residents, the Stokoviches are planning to house assisted-living residents who need only a small amount of help taking care of themselves. Renovation is planned for this structure with decoration in the same theme as the new buildings.

The Stokoviches plan to include day care for the elderly at their facility and hope to reach a residential capacity of 220 seniors.

According to Milan, there has been much interest by future residents, their families and parents of pre-schoolers in Libertyville Manor, but they must wait for their license from the state before any definite plans can be made.

Libertyville Manor is located at 610 Peterson Rd. The number is (312) 367-6100.

SCOUTING REPORT

By STEVE PETERSON
SPORTS EDITOR

Grayslake at Grant

Date: Feb. 24.

Location: Grant High School, Fox Lake.

Team records: Grayslake 16-8 overall, 11-2 in Northwest Suburban; Grant 12-12 overall, 9-4 in NWSC.

Game time: 7:30 p.m.

Keys to game: this is the key game as regular season draws to a close. Rams, led by Timm West, can clinch only their third NWSC title in 48 years. Grant is capable of stopping them, as the Bulldogs put the Rams to the test in a 62-61 loss last month. Guards Tim Hough and Jim Neuman are both threats from three-point range. Grant is led by Kip Paul's 16.5 points per game and Jason Bullman's 6-6 muscle.

Prediction: Rams win title for Coach Greg Groth by three points in thriller.

Round Lake at Johnsborg

Date: Feb. 24.

Location: Johnsborg High School.

Team records: Johnsborg 8-15 overall, 4-9 in NWSC; Round Lake 10-13, 5-9 in NWSC.

Game time: 7:30 p.m.

Keys to game: Round Lake will try and avenge two-point loss to Skyhawks in first round. Trevor Hart paces Johnsborg with more than 20 points per game, but Doug Watts, Scott Hall and Rick Haines are consistent scorers for the Panthers.

Prediction: Round Lake wins battle for fifth place by five on the road.

Wauconda at Lake Zurich

Date: Feb. 24.

Location: Lake Zurich High School.

Team records: Lake Zurich 6-17 overall, 3-9 in NWSC; Wauconda 1-21 overall, 0-13 in NWSC.

Game time: 7:30 p.m.

Keys to game: Wauconda and Coach Dave Gardner would like nothing better than to close the season by breaking the NWSC loss streak. Bulldogs have shown signs of life at times but have yet to put together four quarters of strong play in NWSC action. Dion Niemo is Wauconda's top scoring threat while Lake Zurich counters with Scott Krezminski. Krezminski will be playing in last home game for Bears, who still have shot at seven win season.

Prediction: Lake Zurich by 10.

St. Viator at Carmel

Date: Feb. 24

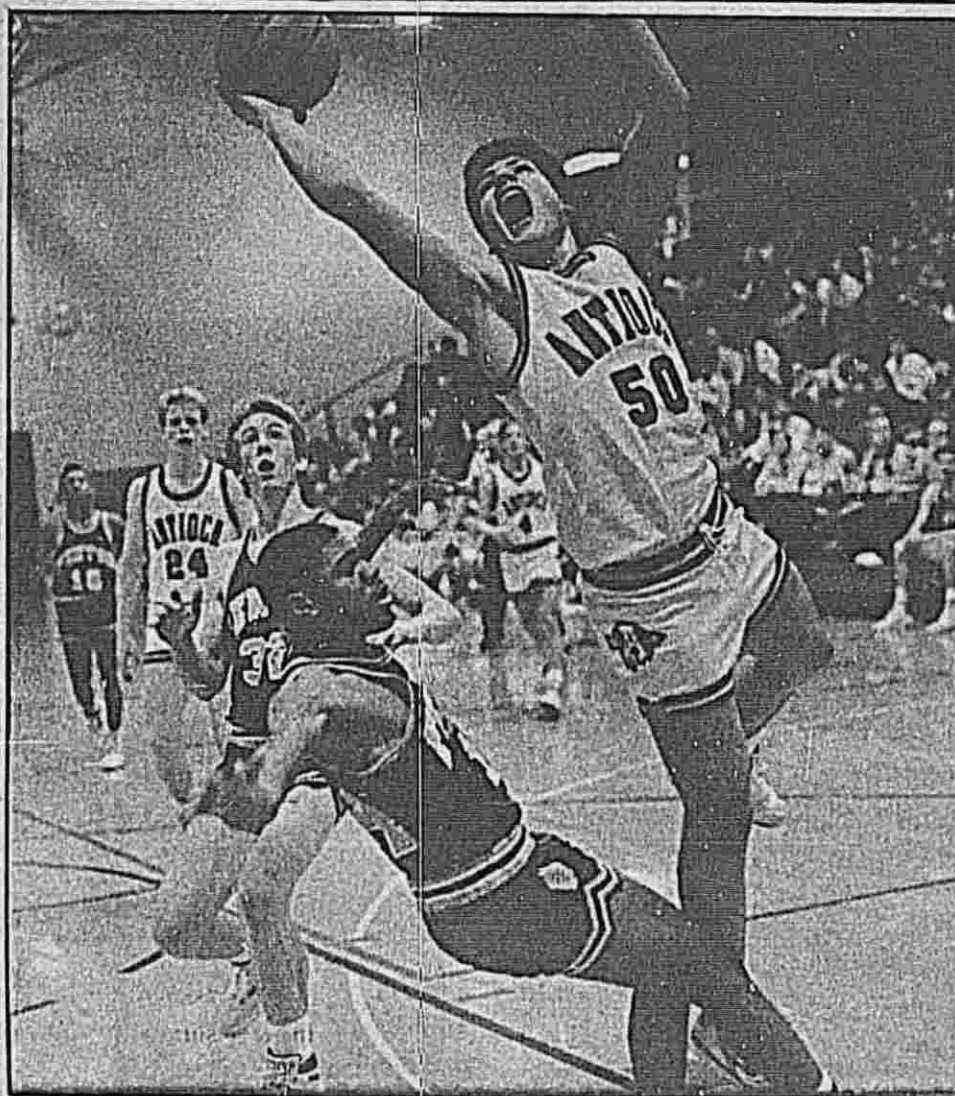

Location: Carmel High School, Mundelein.

Team records: Carmel 13-11 overall, 4-9 in East Suburban Catholic Conference; St. Viator 10-10 overall, 5-7 in ESCC.

Game time: 7:30 p.m.

Keys to game: revenge is big plus for Carmel as St. Viator beat the Corsairs in close contest in Arlington Heights. Carmel seniors Eric Bruksch, Chris Mikrut, Ken Moreano, Derek Shaw, Howard Vasey, Brian Finn, Sean McInerney and Randy Bierman are all playing in final home game at CHS.

Prediction: Carmel gains revenge, wins by two.

Johnsborg's Hart earns respect from NWSC foes

By STEVE PETERSON
SPORTS EDITOR

It was the end of Jeff Lewiston's first year as head coach of the Johnsborg Skyhawks.

Like most coaches, Lewiston had his players write down team and personal goals for the coming season. Trevor Hart submitted his goals as well.

"Most players have trouble with writing down their goals, but Trevor gave me two pages in length. A lot of the things were team oriented. I knew he had potential. If we were winning more, I think people would take more notice of Trevor," Lewiston said at a practice.

It was then - two seasons ago - that Lewiston and the Skyhawks knew they had a special talent on their hands. And while this season has not been particularly successful record-wise - Johnsborg is 8-15 overall, opponents are still scratching their heads trying to find ways to stop Hart.

Hart had two strong games in the latest Northwest Suburban Conference contests - scoring 25 points against Lake Zurich and 22 against Grant. The two games marked the 10th time Hart has scored better than 20 points. However, the "w" wasn't meant to be on both nights as Johnsborg lost in triple overtime to Lake Zurich before losing by 10 at Grant. Then against Wauconda, Hart was "held" to 15 points but Johnsborg won handily 74-59.

"There are a lot of people on the team who are real unselfish and I can keep getting the ball. It's not too hard to make a shot when someone gives you the ball when you are wide open," Hart said.

Hart's high point this season came in a 38-point outing against Grayslake in a 68-64 Johnsborg upset. Hart was as surprised as the Rams.

"I was really concerned going into Grayslake because they were undefeated. We played them twice really close so we knew we could beat them but I had no idea I had that many points," he said.

"Last year I played the center because of my height but I really wasn't comfortable in there. Towards the end of the year we had a zone offense and they put me on the baseline and I feel more comfortable outside. This year I feel comfortable in or out," Hart said.

Hart began his basketball career in Johnsborg while the school was having a revolving door in head coaches - two in two years after legendary Bob Kies left. At the time, Hart was scoring points for Dave Rigby at Johnsborg Junior High.

"In junior high, basketball was something just to play. I really started to love the game after my freshman year. I used to play three sports, but I knew I wanted to concentrate on basketball," Hart said.

Hart, a former little league shortstop and pitcher and budding wide receiver, has had to overcome a slim frame. He has changed roles from his junior to senior year, adding the three-point shot to go with a strong game from five to 10 feet away from the basket.

"He can go outside or take people to the hole. He is one of the most improved players in the conference. He played in the summer leagues and it shows up," Lewiston said.

Virtually all NWSC coaches have praised Hart, but only one has stopped him. Marengo held Hart, who averages

Cager
Report

Warren, in the second-to-last Cager Report, remains in the top position as the Blue Devils have all along.

A look at the top five as teams gear up for regionals:

Warren (19-5): the Blue Devils stumble at Zion-Benton, but bounce back to trounce Lake Forest by more than 25 points to clinch a tie in North Suburban Conference with 14-3 record. Nick Stianos has strong games both nights.

Grayslake (16-8): Rams, like Blue Devils, clinch a tie with win by large margin. Timm West leads cutting-down-the-net ceremony at Grayslake High. Grayslake can clinch a title with win at Grant Feb. 24.

Wilmot (14-4): Falcons, behind 22 points from Luke Reigel, upset state-ranked Burlington 69-66 before huge crowd at home gym. Wilmot started the week with chance at Southern Lakes Conference crown.

North Chicago (14-10): Warhawks bounce back from loss to Antloch with two wins for 12-5 NSC record. Eugene Williams scores 17 and 29 points in both games. Return of strong defense is key.

Carmel (13-10): Corsairs drop 67-66 heartbreaker at Joliet Catholic but bounce back with another Saturday night special with 67-62 win over Mt. Carmel.

better than 20 points a game, to four.

"They zoned us and were just more aware of Trevor. Plus, Trevor got off to a bad start. He was due for a bad ball game," Lewiston said.

Hart said he would like to continue his basketball career next fall at a college and he could be matched up on the same starting five with Timm West of Grayslake at Knox College.

But there are still a few more goals left for the Skyhawks. They host their own regional next week. Hart is hoping that the Fox Valley Conference schools coming in will be in for a big surprise.

Ricci joins elite group

Ken Ricci, athletic director at Round Lake Senior High School, has been recognized by the National Interscholastic Athletic Admin. Assn. (NIAAA) as a Certified Athletic Administrator.

"To earn this distinction, Ricci has demonstrated the highest level of knowledge and expertise in the field of interscholastic athletic administration. The voluntary certification process included a thorough evaluation of the candidate's educational background, experience and professional contributions, as well as a rigorous, comprehensive written examination," The NIAAA stated.

Ricci is one of 97 interscholastic athletic administrators nationwide to attain the level of professionalism for 1988.

The NIAAA is a national professional organization consisting of all 50 state athletic director associations and more than 5,000 individual members, and is based in Kansas City, Mo.

Round Lake seeks revenge in finale at Johnsburg

Round Lake and Johnsburg may not be playing in a game which will determine the Northwest Suburban Conference basketball champion, but that does not mean the two teams are not taking the Feb. 24 game seriously.

The game at Johnsburg will be a battle for fifth place between the 4-9 Skyhawks and 5-8 Panthers. Game time for the Northwest Suburban Conference tilt is 7:30 p.m.

Johnsburg is coming into the game off a 74-59 romp over Wauconda while Round Lake lost a tough 57-52 overtime decision to Grant.

Johnsburg, whose loss to Round Lake secured the Panthers' title in the season-finale last year, beat Round Lake in the first round.

"We have to be aware of their perimeter shooting,"

Johnsburg Coach Jeff Lewiston said.

Tom Oeffling led the Skyhawks against Wauconda with 20 points. Johnsburg started well with a 17-9 lead after one but had to withstand Wauconda rallies.

"The game was pretty intense throughout. I thought we had a good chance in the overtime because no one had fouled out," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said.

But Grant, 9-4 in the NWSC with the win, was not going to be denied. After the 45-45 tie following regulation, Grant's Kip Paul scored two baskets in overtime, Jason Bullman had one and the visitors were six-for-six from the free-throw line.

"The seniors came through in overtime," Grant Coach Tom Maple said.

Paul was the main thorn in Round Lake's side, scoring 28 points.

"We played overall good team defense in the second half," Ward said.

Round Lake, 10-13 with the loss, trailed by seven points at halftime but came back with a 10-4 run in the third quarter.

Doug Watts had 18 to lead Round Lake and Scott Hall had 17 points.

Earlier, Round Lake scored 48 first-half points en route to an 81-61 win over Cary-Grove in non-conference play. Rick Haines had 20 points to lead the Panthers.

Ward said Watts, a senior, scored his points on both inside and outside shots.

"After scoring 48 points in the first half, we were worried about a drought in the third quarter," Ward said.

In other games, Lake Zurich, 3-10 in the NWSC and 6-17 overall, hosts Wauconda, 0-13, 1-21.

CLC hoopsters finish Skyway at .500 mark

The Skyway Conference basketball campaign proved to be a 50-50 proposition for College of Lake County's two teams.

Both the men's squad and the women's squad finished the league season with 7-7 marks heading into sectional play.

The men's team split two league games in the final week of the regular season.

"It's been a disappointing year. I'd thought we do better," CLC Coach Bruce Smith said.

The win over Truman and loss to Waubesa gave CLC an 11-19 record.

Against Truman, the Lancers broke open a 37-37 halftime tie to win going away, 97-88.

Greg Green paced the winner with 39 points, a season high.

Tom Wells and 19 points, Don Kiesgen 15 and Mike Fiesel had 11.

The Lancers then were in another high-scoring game against the Chiefs, but it was Waubesa which did most of the high scoring in a 92-66 win.

CLC's women's basketball team had a rougher time of it, losing its last three games.

The Lancers of Coach Don Zeman found out why Kankakee was undefeated as the Cavaliers crushed CLC 83-38 in the regular season finale.

Crystal Payne had 16 points for the Lancers and Teri Huntington 11 but that was not enough to overcome Kris Bacon's 19 and Christy Whaley's 16 points.

CLC stayed relatively close in the first 10 minutes, trailing 27-13. A 10-2 run settled the issue.

The loss gave the Lancers a 7-16 overall record.

Earlier, CLC stayed even with Waubesa through the first half but the Chiefs won a 68-65 Skyway Conference decision. The loss spoiled a 29-point performance from Payne and 14 from Huntington and Jennifer Robison.

Against Truman, CLC fell 65-56. Payne had 21 in another strong game and Robison 16 and Huntington 13 points.

Grayslake aims to claim NWSC crown outright

Grayslake boys basketball Coach Greg Groth probably doesn't mind if you call him greedy these days.

At least when it comes to winning the Northwest Suburban Conference boys basketball title.

The Rams, thanks to an impressive 51-36 win over Lake Zurich, have just that opportunity when they travel to Grant to face the Bulldogs. The Feb. 24 game will mean the second straight year the Rams will have at least something to say about who wins the NWSC. Last year, the Rams beat Grant in the season finale to give Round Lake the title outright. Now it's their turn.

"We want the title outright. We don't want to share the title with anyone. I'm especially happy for all the seniors. They really dedicated themselves to this season," Groth said.

Timm West scored 21 points to lead the way in his final home contest. Guards Jim Neumann and Tim Hough combined for 15 points and Hough had a strong assist night.

Marengo rebounded from a loss at Grayslake in a slowdown game to beat Marian Central 57-54. Grant would have to beat Grayslake to keep the Indians hopes alive to share the title.

The Bulldogs come into the 7:30 p.m. game at Fox Lake off a 57-52 overtime win against Round Lake.

Kip Paul is Grant's leading scorer and had 28 points against the Panthers. Paul, who had also scored 22 points in a win over Lake Zurich, is averaging 16.5 points per game.

"We're not looking to try and deny Grayslake the title. We're looking for a win to keep our momentum for regionals and finish high in the conference," Grant Coach Tom Maple said.

The Bulldogs are no slouches at 12-12 overall and 9-4 in the NWSC.

For Grayslake seniors Hough, West, Neuman, Craig Katzenmaier, Corey Knigge, and Steve Gundrum, the win did more than improve Grayslake to 16-8 overall, 11-2 in the NWSC. It meant the icing on the cake for five years of hard work.

"We had been playing basketball together since junior high," Hough said.

The contest against the Bears was one in which there was a special atmosphere from the start. It was Parent's Night and a crowded Grayslake side greeted the Rams. Some 84 feet of students were ready with "high fives" for the starting players.

The Rams responded with a 14-4 run to start the game.

Corsairs aim to finish regular season with win

Maybe, if he repeats it often enough, Carmel boys basketball Coach Scott Rosberg can convince his team that the regular-season finale Feb. 24 is really a non-conference Saturday night game.

True, the contest is on Friday and is against East Suburban Catholic Conference rival St. Viator but if the Corsairs can somehow transfer their Saturday performances to the day before than the finale should be a strong showing.

The Corsairs are 13-10 overall and ranked fifth in the Cager Report but CHS is a frustrating 4-9 in league play.

The latest dose of frustration came in a 67-66 loss to Joliet Catholic.

But just as the team had in previous occasions, the Corsairs bounced back with a Saturday home win, a 67-62 verdict over Mt. Carmel.

"The play of Eric Maloney off the bench was the key," Rosberg said.

Maloney did not lead the winners - Chris Mikrut had those honors with 25 points - but his 12 points and rebounding efforts helped Carmel stay ahead.

Carmel also received fine performances from Eric Bruksch's 10 points and Randy Bierman's nine.

Carmel led after each quarter but only 46-43 entering the fourth. The Corsairs then held back Mt. Carmel.

The Corsairs the night before had led before a last-second shot gave the Hilltoppers the win.

Maloney, a junior, had a strong game in that contest with 13 points. Bruksch led Carmel with 16 and Mikrut

Forest Preserve acquires another three properties

by JOE WINTER
NEWS CORRESPONDENT

The board of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. has agreed to acquire three more parcels of land, but sandwiched between the votes were questions involving the ecological value of one piece of property and charges of making statements for political purposes and demagoguery.

One of the votes taken was far from unanimous, that being on the McKay parcel across from the entrance of the College of Lake County.

The parcels acquired, after discussion of land acquisition in closed session, were:

--Sterling Lake addition (Mossman parcel) in Newport Twp. near the Tri-State Tollway and Rte. 173, by a 21-1 vote, covering 56.7 acres;

--Arndt parcel in Wauconda Twp., between the Village of Wauconda and the northeast corner of the Lakewood Forest Preserve site, by a 22-0 vote, 18.5 acres for $347,000; and

--McKay parcel in Avon Twp., located on Washington St. adjacent to the Rollins Rd. Savanna, by a vote of 13-9, 26.5 acres.

The latter action found board members discussing whether the district should purchase farmland parcels. The site is a farm field, with no wetlands, and sewer and water service is available to the home on the property.

The property does not have "intrinsic value ecologically," said Dist. 3 Rep. Eleanor Rostron of Beach Park, who added that the money could be better spent after receiving a listing of sites from a consultant in the near future. Rostron recommended that the board then prioritize the parcels it would consider purchasing.

No compelling reason exists to buy the property, based on statements made in both open and closed session, commented Dist. 3 Rep. James LaBelle. The site is located next to the Mariner's Cove subdivision, and would be used for reforestation as well as a buffer for a marsh connected to Third Lake, according to staff planner Michael Fenelon.

Dist. 3 Rep. Robert Neal of Wadsworth read a letter from the mayor of Third Lake, Paul Erickson, stating that a developer has proposed construction of a quality, multiple-use development on the site which would be "unique and desirable." The letter stated that this development would be vital to the growth of their community.

Dist. 4 Rep. Suzi Schmidt of Lake Villa said that a trustee of Third Lake, and a caller who said they were a trustee of the village but did not identify themselves, told her the district should purchase the land.

Neal also noted that condemnation should not be allowed since a house is located on the site. This home, on a two-acre section, would be owned under a "life estate," said attorney Donald Morrison of the district. Under this arrangement, the willing seller would reserve the right to live on and possess the land, and retain all duties, rights and risks of a landowner, Morrison said. In return, the price for which the property was sold would decrease.

WTHS grads experience softball in snow craze

Warren Twp. High School Class of 1969 graduates will have somewhat of a unique reunion Feb. 25 and 26.

Instead of a picnic in the park, though, grads of Warren will be busy having fun playing softball in the snow.

The two-day event will be at Softball City in Hainesville. The sports complex knows now barrier such as mother nature.

"Sno ball is becoming very popular," Otis Carter of Softball City said.

The Hainesville establishment has already had one sno ball tournament.

Features include: batting Mens, womens and co-ed leagues will be offered. at the site with 18 teams participating.

The same umpires that are used for summer softball are used in the winter, Carter said.

One aspect of Sno Ball which baseball maverick Charles Finley would enjoy is the fact that yellow softballs are used.

Softball City is presently planning is summer leagues. A Feb. 27 meeting will be held for leagues starting in May and a Feb. 28 meeting for leagues starting in June. Fees for May leagues are $320 and for June leagues $220. range, four lighted diamonds, sports and snack bar, beer garden, volleyball and more.

Plenty take advantage of weatherization program

by JOE WINTER
NEWS CORRESPONDENT

Plenty of applicants come forward in Lake County for the Home Weatherization Assistance Program, in fact "more than enough" for the agency's workers to keep pace with, according to Director Tom Seno.

Lake County often is considered a somewhat affluent area, but on the other end of the economic spectrum there are many poor people who need this service, Seno said. Unfortunately, some people still are not aware of the weatherization program's existence.

Use of the program, which is offered in each county in both Illinois and Wisconsin, and is free for people meeting income guidelines. Prospective clients may apply at the Lake County Community Action Project, at 102-106 Sheridan Rd. in Waukegan. The phone number is (312) 249-4330. The Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program makes referrals, as conserving heat may lower the utility bills of people having trouble making ends meet, and weatherization program personnel give talks to senior citizen groups to encourage participation. Helping the elderly is the program's top priority.

Muriel Schlottmann dies

Grayslake resident Muriel Schlottmann Becker passed away Wednesday, Feb. 22, in Florida. She is survived by her husband Paul Becker, Sr., son Paul Becker, Jr. and one great grandchild.

Ruth Pester, a long-time family friend, said that the funeral will be held Friday, Feb. 24, in Excelsior Minn., a suburb of Minneapolis. At 10 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 25, there will be a graveside service at the Grayslake Cemetery on Lake St., with Rev. Baumeister officiating.

Muriel Schlottmann was the daughter of Paul Schlottmann, former owner and publisher of the Grayslake Times, who sold the paper to Marshall Schroeder, father of the paper's present owner and publisher, William Schroeder, Sr.

Ruth Pester said that Muriel Schlottmann died of a blood clot as a result of surgery two weeks ago, in Florida, where the Beckers have a condominium on Pravenier Key.

Girl Scouts to launch annual cookie sale

Girl Scout cookie time is here. Each year the cookie sale funds educational programs for the Girl Scouts. These programs in turn help the girls learn good citizenship skills as well as develop strong leader skills.

Over 12,000 Illinois Prairie Council

Girl Scouts are now greeting the public with cookie boxes in hand. During the weekend of Feb. 24 through 26 the girls will have cookies in hand at local banks, stores and businesses throughout the Council's 53 community area in Cook and Lake Counties. From March 2 through 13 the girls will go door to door taking cookie orders for April delivery.

"Cookie prices remain the same as last year," according to Harriet Sarlo of Des Plaines, volunteer chairman of the cookie sale for 13 years. She emphasizes that troop profits help to finance a troop's spring camping trip or other special activity.

Sarlo continued, "The sale is a vital part of Girl Scout program. In what may be a girl's first venture into the business world, she learns to meet the public with poise and courtesy, confident in the product she's selling. Through goal setting, record keeping and organizing her time she's also learning a lot about marketing. And she has the satisfaction of knowing she's doing a service for her troop and thousands of other Girl Scouts."

The girls are backed by over 1,000 volunteers throughout Illinois Prairie's 50 communities. The volunteer steering committee includes Judy Neville of Niles, Helen DeVries of Antioch, Maureen Porth of Palatine, Kay Monroe and Darlene Brand of Elk Grove Village and Pet Smith of Palatine.

Seventy-seven area and community volunteers work with Illinois Prairie's 800 troops to get the product out to 12,000 girls.

Little Brownie Baker is the Illinois Prairie cookie company, and is featuring a new cookie this year—a honey glazed chocolate chip cookie. They are also featuring the Echo, a chocolate sandwich cookie and the ever popular Samoa. Also, all the old favorites are back, including the thin Mini, Do-Si-Dos, Trefoils, and Tagalongs.

Order-taking cookie sales are officially launched with a cheerleading contest which will take place at Lakehurst Mall in Waukegan on Saturday, Feb. 25.

This year Nancy Tobiasz and her varsity cheerleading team from Grant High School in Fox Lake will judge the cheerleading contest. The varsity cheerleaders are Lee Craddock, Amy Eiduke, Maureen Hoppe, Erica Jackstas, Nikki Kendra and Amy Pressler. They will perform cheers for the audience and present the awards. The won fourth place in the Battle of the Cheerleaders contest sponsored by Radio Station WXLG held earlier at Lakehurst Mall.

The Cheerleading contest features all age levels from Daisy Girl Scouts (five years old) to Cadette level (ages 12 to 14). Each troop participating in the competition wrote and choreographed its own cheer to support the cookie sale.

Cookie sale volunteers from the Lakeland area include:

Laura Ayre of Antioch, Meg Raupp of Buffalo Grove, Karmann Coles of Great Lakes, Mary Hilgenberg of Buffalo Grove, Cathy Hodina of Lake Villa, Terri Fergus of Buffalo Grove, Janet Folar of Ingleside, and Linda Johnson of Round Lake.

Don't be misled by hefty horsepower

Many people think that a large horsepower outboard motor on the back of a bass boat means "fast" or "speedboat". However, the hull design and the weight of the boat must be taken into consideration before drawing that conclusion.

The U.S. Coast Guard regulates the horsepower for all outboard powered boats under 20 feet manufactured in the United States. Their formula is simply "length times width, times two, subtract 90". The answer is the approved maximum horsepower for a fiberglass boat. The weight of the boat or the hull design is not taken into consideration.

One manufacturer's 18-foot boat might weigh 650 pounds, while another's might weigh 1,200 pounds, and both would be rated for the same maximum horsepower. A 150-horsepower motor on a 650-pound bass boat is certainly faster than the same horsepower on a 1,200-pound boat.

Think about this in relation to automobiles. A 2,000-pound small car with a 100-horsepower motor performs just fine, but what if that same motor was installed in a 5,000-pound large station wagon or truck?

Most quality built bass boats weigh more than a pleasure boat of the same size, due to the necessary storage compartments, aerated live wells, extra batteries, trolling motor and other fishing gear.

Another thing to consider is that a 150-horsepower motor at 75 percent full throttle uses approximately the same amount of fuel as a 100-horsepower motor at full throttle, with both boats running at approximately the same speed.

It's "nice" to have the extra 25 percent of power for emergencies such as "outrunning" a storm or getting caught in a storm and having to carry an extra 200 gallons of water in a "swamped" boat.

Yes, there are legally powered bass boats that will run 70-plus mph, but they are usually lightweight boats.

Remember, just because a boat carries a rating for a certain maximum horsepower doesn't mean it won't perform with a smaller horsepower motor.

Most boat manufacturers test their products not only with the maximum horsepower allowed, but also with smaller motors so as to obtain a horsepower "range" they can recommend for their boats.

Bass boats, with their large motors and organized bass tournaments, have the best safety record of all boating-related water sports. Today's bass boats, with their modern technology and well-engineered hull designs, adapt well to the larger outboard motors.

Marine lending available

The First National Bank of Waukegan is a leader in the marine lending industry offering financing for all boat types and sizes. Part of the First National's success stems from the fact that applications are approved in 24 hours, reaffirming their commitment to exceptional customer service.

There are few financial institutions in Lake County that offer boat loans. Early in the 1980s, the First National Bank of Waukegan's marine financing programs became an integral product line fulfilling the needs of our recreational communities.

Loan rates are highly competitive with 15-year amortization and five-year balloons being available.

Safe boating class to commence Feb. 28

The U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary will offer a six-lesson, six week course in boating skills and seamanship at the Grant High School, Grand Ave. and Rte. 59, Fox Lake, starting Feb. 28. The course will run from 7 to 9 p.m.

Subjects will include maneuvering, aids to navigation, updated rules of the road, legal requirements, safety equipment and safe boat operation. A certificate of completion will be awarded after the final examination is successfully taken.

Further information and reservations may be obtained by calling (312)546-4742. A $15 fee will be charged for the text book.

Working hard to make banking easy.

"Our ship just came in!"

It's been a dream of ours for years to own our own boat. Just the two of us—enjoying the good life—skimming across the cool, blue waters of Lake Michigan.

We found the right boat at the right price. Now we just had to find the right financing.

It was easier than we thought. All it took was a phone call to Tony Wade at The First National Bank. He explained the easy terms and the affordable rates. We filled out the paperwork and within 24 hours Tony had an answer for us! So now we have the boat of our dreams. Finding the best financing for us truly was "smooth sailing!"

Pleasure boating makes hefty economic impact

Boating's economic impact is hefty, as would be expected from the fourth most popular recreational activity in the United States.

"The average boater in Illinois is the average citizen, plain and simple," said Jeff Napier, president of the National Marine Manufacturers Assn., the national trade organization of boat and marine-equipment makers.

According to industry figures, nationwide the amount spent during 1988 for new and used boats, motors and engines, accessories, safety equipment, fuel, insurance, docking, maintenance, launching, storage, repairs and club memberships was reported at over $17 billion.

There were 9,963,696 boat registrations as of Dec. 31, 1987, for the U.S. and its territories. Of these, 7,487,446 were registered outboard motorboats, and 1,670,655 were registered as either inboard boats, inboard/outdrive boats, or auxiliary powered sailboats, and 805,595 were registered as miscellaneous craft (including non-powered sailboats, canoes, rowboats, jet boats, etc.)

about alcohol and boating

SOME SOBERING FACTS

- Over 1200 people die in boating accidents every year.
- 90% of them drown. Drowning is the third leading cause of accidental death in the U.S.
- Over 50% of those fatalities involved alcohol.

The U.S. Coast Guard estimates the number of non-fatal boating accidents to be 60,000 or higher with property damage well over $100 million annually.

Each year, boating accidents claim over 1,200 lives and injure thousands more. Waterways are second only to highways as the scene of accident deaths in this country. The Coast Guard and the U.S. Congress recognize alcohol as a significant problem on the water.

BOATING FATALITIES

Research shows that four hours' exposure to noise, vibration, sun, glare, wind and other motion on the water produces a kind of "boater's hypnosis" or fatigue, which slows reaction time almost as much as if you were legally drunk. Adding alcohol to boating stress factors intensifies their effects — each drink multiplies your accident risk.

Boating is more fun than driving, right? No speed limits, no traffic signals, no merging lanes, no potholes. If you think that makes operating a boat under the influence of alcohol safer than drinking and driving, you could be dead wrong. Alcohol affects your ability to function in three critical ways. Your balance, judgement and reaction time are affected almost immediately with the first drink.

Mayer brings joint replacement expertise to area

Area residents suffering from arthritic joints and other related injuries of the joint area can now seek assistance from John Mayer, M.D., a member of the St. Therese medical staff. With specialty training in artificial joint replacements, Mayer brings the experience and expertise to handle the most difficult types of joint reconstructive procedures. While at the National Hospital, Mayer was a student of Charles Engh, M.D., known world-wide for his work in the area of cementless, "porous-coated" artificial joint replacements.

In recent years, especially in hip replacements, the trend has been away from the use of "cement", which has been traditionally used since the 1970s as a grouting agent to hold the artificial implants in place.

Studies of hip replacements have shown that three groups of patients show a higher failure rate with the cemented joint implants. Patients who are "younger" (age 65 or less) usually have a time factor working against them since life expectancy is well into the 80s. Overweight and active patients place more stress on their joints, thus increasing the chance of the cement failing. Patients who have undergone this process previously only to have it fail (revision cases) are even more susceptible to having a cement bonding fail the second time around. These people are excellent candidates for the "cementless implants".

Mayer's training focuses on the use of such implants. Each implant has special features in design which allows it to fit tightly from the start, therefore not requiring cement. A specific type of the cementless implant features a rough textured surface, allowing the body's own bone to grow into the implants, thus securing it in place.

Mayer is the newest member of Greenleaf Orthopaedic Associates, S.C., located in Gurnee and Vernon Hills. His interest in orthopaedics can be traced to days spent as a professional soccer player.

"That experience gave me a taste for the medical aspect of sports," Mayer said. "Initially, my interest was sports medicine, but as time went on I found the joint replacement field even more interesting because of the dramatic things that could be done. I find revision surgery the most rewarding.

It is most gratifying to help restore a more normal lifestyle to a patient who has had multiple operations and years of problems."

Seniors, check deferral plan

Lake County senior citizens who are having trouble paying their real estate taxes may defer all or part of their taxes on their personal residence if they qualify under a 1984 law.

Lake County Treasurer Jack Anderson explained the deferral is a loan by the state with a six percent interest rate, to be repaid after the death of the taxpayer or at the time the property is sold.

To qualify, a person must be 65 years old or older by June 1; have a total income of $14,000 or less; have owned a home in Illinois for at least three years; and must own the property which must be used exclusively for residential purposes.

Also, all previous years' real estate taxes must be paid, and the property must not be income property. The total amount of the deferred tax may not exceed 80 percent of the taxpayer's equity in the property.

Forms for applications for the deferred tax program available at Anderson's office in the Lake County Administration Building in Waukegan. Deadline for filing for the tax deferral is March 1.

For more information, call (312)360-6363.

Good Shepherd to present 'senior talk'

The Senior Passport program of Good Shepherd Hospital will present "Foods You Eat—How it Affects Cholesterol" on Friday, Feb. 24, in the Prairie/Lakeview rooms of the hospital.

The speaker for the 9:30 to 11 a.m. program will be Jean Gilly, registered dietitian at Good Shepherd Hospital.

In addition to the presentation, a free cholesterol screening will be provided from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. at the hospital.

To register for the event, call Good Shepherd's Senior Passport office at (312)381-9600, ext. 5441, or (312)392-PASS.

Good Shepherd Hospital is located north of Barrington on Hwy. 22, two miles west of Rte. 59.

Middle age kids must check options

Sociologists often call middle-agers the "Sandwich Generation". More and more middle-agers find their own needs are sandwiched in between the needs of their growing children and those of their aging parents.

"Just as we try to maximize the independence of our children as they grow, we need to maximize the independence of our parents as they progress through the life cycle," says Lake Co. Extension advisor Irene Green. "Sometimes it's hard to watch a parent make decisions that you don't agree with. You may think a nursing home is best for mom because she doesn't get around as easily as she used to. But she's adamant about staying in the house she and Dad have always lived in. It's not easy to resolve these kinds of conflicts, but communication and compromise can help."

A living arrangement that allows maximum mobility and self-reliance is an important way to help the aging parent stay independent. Green recommends making a careful assessment of the parent's living quarters.

"Decide whether the older person can safely get around all on one floor, without using stairs. Be sure rugs are securely taped to the floor, and that there are no cords or thresholds that he or she might trip over. In the bathroom, install appropriate grab bars to prevent falls, and make sure the floor surface isn't too slippery when it's wet."

A number of housing options are available for older persons who are physically mobile.

"Consider options such as an accessory apartment," Green recommends. "This is created by installing a separate living unit in what was originally a one-family home. Some builders call this a mother-in-law apartment."

A highly successful and innovative housing option, Elder Cottage Housing Option (ECHO) comes from Australia. These are detached, removable efficiency housing units installed on the same lot with a family home.

UNNECESSARY CATARACT SURGERY

Recently, the Reader's Digest had an article about unnecessary cataract surgery. It is an important article and serves to remind patients that cataracts are not "cancers" and that the mere presence of a cataract does not mean that surgery must be performed.

Most people develop cataracts as they get older. Frequently, the patients have no symptoms from the cataract. If the patients have no symptoms there is little reason to do cataract surgery. The symptoms of a cataract might be blurred vision at distance or near or glare (difficulty in seeing as in bright sunlight or being dazzled by car headlights.)

Frequently these symptoms of cataracts can be alleviated with new glasses. Many patients with cataracts can have their glasses changed periodically for ten years before they require surgery.

If surgery is recommended for your cataract, we agree with the Reader's Digest and suggest that you obtain a second opinion. As stated previously, not all cataract surgery is necessary.

IAHA questions the value of HCFA consumer guide

The Illinois Assn. of Homes for the Aging, a not-for-profit organization representing 200 long-term care providers, expressed concerns over the consumer guide released by HCFA.

"Our major problem with the consumer guide helping people determine the quality of care in their local nursing centers is the format of the guide," said Dennis Bozzi, IAHA executive director.

"As we understand HCFA's intentions, they have released raw 1987 survey data directly to the media without any explanation as to what the results mean. It is our feeling that conclusions drawn from this report could be inaccurate, and in some cases, erroneous," said Bozzi.

"For example, a patient who has an over-the-counter drug in a nightstand could have been assessed as a pharmacological deficiency. A consumer or reporter could misinterpret this as the facility giving the wrong medicine to patients."

The 1987 survey results, already a matter of public record, are part of the government's ongoing, systematic process of reviewing nursing homes compliance with federal Medicare/Medicaid standards. In follow-up to the regular surveys, nursing homes must demonstrate how they plan to rectify any deficiencies which are noted to maintain their Medicare/Medicaid status.

For further information on the HCFA Consumer Guide and IAHA, contact Dennis Bozzi or Marianne Taylor, (312)325-6170.

EMERALD 2

UPPER LEVEL PLAN

226-72 Emerald 2

Together when you want it. Privacy when you need it. Satisfying these requirements earned the Emerald 2 the runner up spot for 1987 and again in 1988.

The master suite of the Emerald 2 is a world unto itself on the home's second floor. Yet the main level of this home is an assemblage of activity centers where a family with the most diverse of interests can come together.

Up a few steps to the entry deck and through double front doors sits a tiled foyer. Open to the second story, it creates a formal introduction to the home.

On one hand is a sunken living room with skylights in its vaulted ceiling, a corner fireplace and a symmetrical arrangement of narrow and wide windows in a modified bay. On the other is a den made airy by bay window. Up a few steps handy to all living areas is a half bath. A full utility room is found near the steps leading down to the garage. The prize here - a laundry chute feeding down from the second story.

Around the corner is a family room measuring more than 15 x 17 - plenty of room for casual relaxation. Sliding glass doors open to a rear deck, and the adjacent kitchen is clearly visible, keeping the cook in touch with the crew. The kitchen itself brims with such bonuses as a sunny garden window over the clean-up station. A wide counter open to the adjacent dining room can double as an eating bar with the addition of a few stools.

Isolated from the home's activity centers are the main floor bedrooms, guaranteed to keep the kids from fighting over whose is bigger - they're identical twins separated by a shared bathroom. Both featured step-in closets and built-in shelving, vaulted ceilings and a pair of generous windows.

The second story is completely given over to a high ceilinged master suite and adjacent study, which boasts a fireplace and bay window. The sleeping area, with its sliding glass doors to a private balcony, measures a generous 15 x 14. A step up leads to the grand bath, equipped with a combined spa/tub on a low pedestal, double sinks, and a separate shower.

The walk-in closet has all that's expected: single and double poles; built-in shelving; plenty of turn-around and storage room and a laundry chute to the downstairs utility room.

For a study plan of the Emerald 2 (226-72), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

WE'VE GOT BIG PLANS FOR YOU.

Mallard Ridge, the area's largest apartments! Past a magnificent entrance way, you'll discover exclusive luxury living. Marvel at the spacious floor plans, stately master bedrooms, expansive living and dining rooms and private patios or balconies. Our carefully designed kitchen features a large eating area with bay window, rich cabinetry, easy-care Armstrong flooring, and every convenience—built-in dishwasher, frost-free refrigerator, oven/range and microwave.

All this from only $595 per month. And there's even more:

- 3 distinct floor plans
- 3 designer color schemes to choose from
- Individually controlled heat and air conditioning
- 5 1/2 acre park site with all the amenities
- Acres of green space due to low density of apartments
- All apartments are corner units with two views
- Private, secure full-size storage room
- Vaulted ceilings in 3rd floor apartments

Visit Mallard Ridge Apartments. Just 5 minutes from the Tri-State Tollway. You don't have to settle for anything less.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: When you feel uncertain, it is not the time to act.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Many aspects of this full moon period can feel confusing if you let them. You are a self-sufficient person, and that style brings rewards.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Keep activities close to home. Iron out the kinks. Talk out plans with those affected, and avoid taking others for granted.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) You can take advantage of a new situation. Make safety a priority. Ignore annoying circumstances that do not directly affect you.

Cancer (June 22 to Jul. 21) You may be called upon to comfort someone who has an emotional problem. Do something exotic. Develop closer attachments.

Leo (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Your romantic judgment of another may need to be re-examined. Avoid taking chances. Seek out new social opportunities.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Find a mentally active friend to be with. Your ideas and creativity need to be tested with verbal expression and exchanges.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Look about for an outlet that will improve your gift of ESP. Be mindful of gains and accomplishment. Avoid dwelling on the negative.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take a look at where your talents fair best. Study and review investment opportunities. Contact parents or close relatives.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Your independent mind and curiosity can become unraveled when you feel restricted or trapped in a situation. Be thoughtful.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) No action is a dilemma when you feel energetic. Forcing activity and progress will lead to disagreements and rebellion.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Your sentimental nature can expect the flaws in a weak person to vanish. Associate with those who strengthen your position.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Cramming too many activities into one time period can cause chaos and exhaust you. Keep to the sunny side of your nature.

Be there!

Hah! At last a restaurant with a newspaper theme. The Newsmakers Restaurant and Lounge in the Best Western Inn on Ohio St. in Chicago has just opened with 300 current and vintage newspaper photos, logos and much more as part of the theme decor.

Gen. Mgr. Sam Turco claims that the decor is just one way to thank the many media people who use the restaurant often.

There will be a motorcycle swap meet at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., in Bldg. 1 on Sunday, March 5.

For those who are back to nature minded, how about the special maple syrup program planned for the Ryerson Conservation Area in Deerfield on Sunday, March 5. For 50 cents Lake Countians can choose their own maple tree and tap it for delicious syrup. Call (312)948-7750.

For all those guys over 50 that still dream of her, Mitzi Gaynor will be appearing in the Mitzi Gaynor Show this weekend at the Holiday Plaza Resort in Merrillville, just 45 minutes south of Chicago's Loop.

If you are a comedy club buff, there's always Zanies on Wells in Chi-Town. The show is always funny. The club has been picked as one of the top eight comedy clubs in the country.

Stage

At the Orchard Theatre in the Old Orchard Country Club, the David Shire/Richard Maltby award winning musical "Baby" is getting ready to open on Friday, March 14.

Eric Overmyer's "On the Verge," a lingual tour de force about language and notions of progress is set for Barat College's performing Arts Center's Hilton Theatre in Lake Forest, starting on March 10.

For the kids, the On Stage production of "Pinocchio," will be at the Pickwick Theatre in Park Ridge, live, on stage, on March 8 through June 16, performance on weekdays are at 10:30 a.m., and on Saturdays, at noon. Call (312)989-0532 for show time info and reservations.

That musical murder mystery, "Edwin Drood," is in top-notch form at the Candlelight Dinner Theatre on Harlem.

The Waukegan Players will present the "Night of January 16," at the Wixon Auditorium/Waukegan East High School, at 8 p.m., from March 9-12.

Music

The Waukegan Symphony Children's Concert, "Cinderella," is slated for the Genesee theatre in Waukegan at 10 a.m. on Friday, March 3 and at 7 p.m., on Saturday, March 4.

Orchestra Hall on Michigan Ave. is the place. This Sunday at 3 p.m. is the time violin and Marc Neikrug on the piano will play an all Brahms program.

Johnny Mathas and Dionne Warwick are a melodious duet from March 2-5 at the Holiday Star Plaza.

Home & Flower Show color in dull weather

From now until Sunday, Feb. 26, one can leave the black and white world of February and enjoy spring in full color at the 1989 Chicagoland Home and Flower Show.

The show, scheduled for the O'Hare Expo center in Rosemont, was officially opened by the reigning Miss America of 1989, Gretchen Carlson, of Anoka, Minn.

This year, the Home & Flower Show is having more features, more flowers, more exhibits and more ideas than any other show of its kind in Illinois!

Visitors will treat their senses to over 35,000 sq. ft. of blossoming gardens, floral displays, indoor plants and beautiful landscapes. Gardens will include Chicagoland scenes, tulip, rose, water, orchid, Japanese, vegetable, herb, front and backyard gardens and many others.

Now, located throughout the show are plant and landscape experts from plant societies, garden clubs, schools, conservatories, landscaping, lawn and tree care organizations.

These "plant doctors" will answer all one's questions on indoor and outdoor gardening. For the first time at the show, FTD Florists will present beautiful and informative floral displays and presentations.

A new, special feature is The Hartford House, a model home designed and built by the Hartford Insurance Group, the company which wrote the Homeowners Insurance for Abraham Lincoln's house in Springfield.

Daily entertainment attractions do include flower demonstrations, the Better Health Cooking Show and the Weber Grill Comedy/Cooking Show. Brought back by popular demand, the Weber Grill Cooking Team of "Mad Dog and Merrill" will do zany and crazy things to draw attention to their specialty - cooking on barbecue grills.

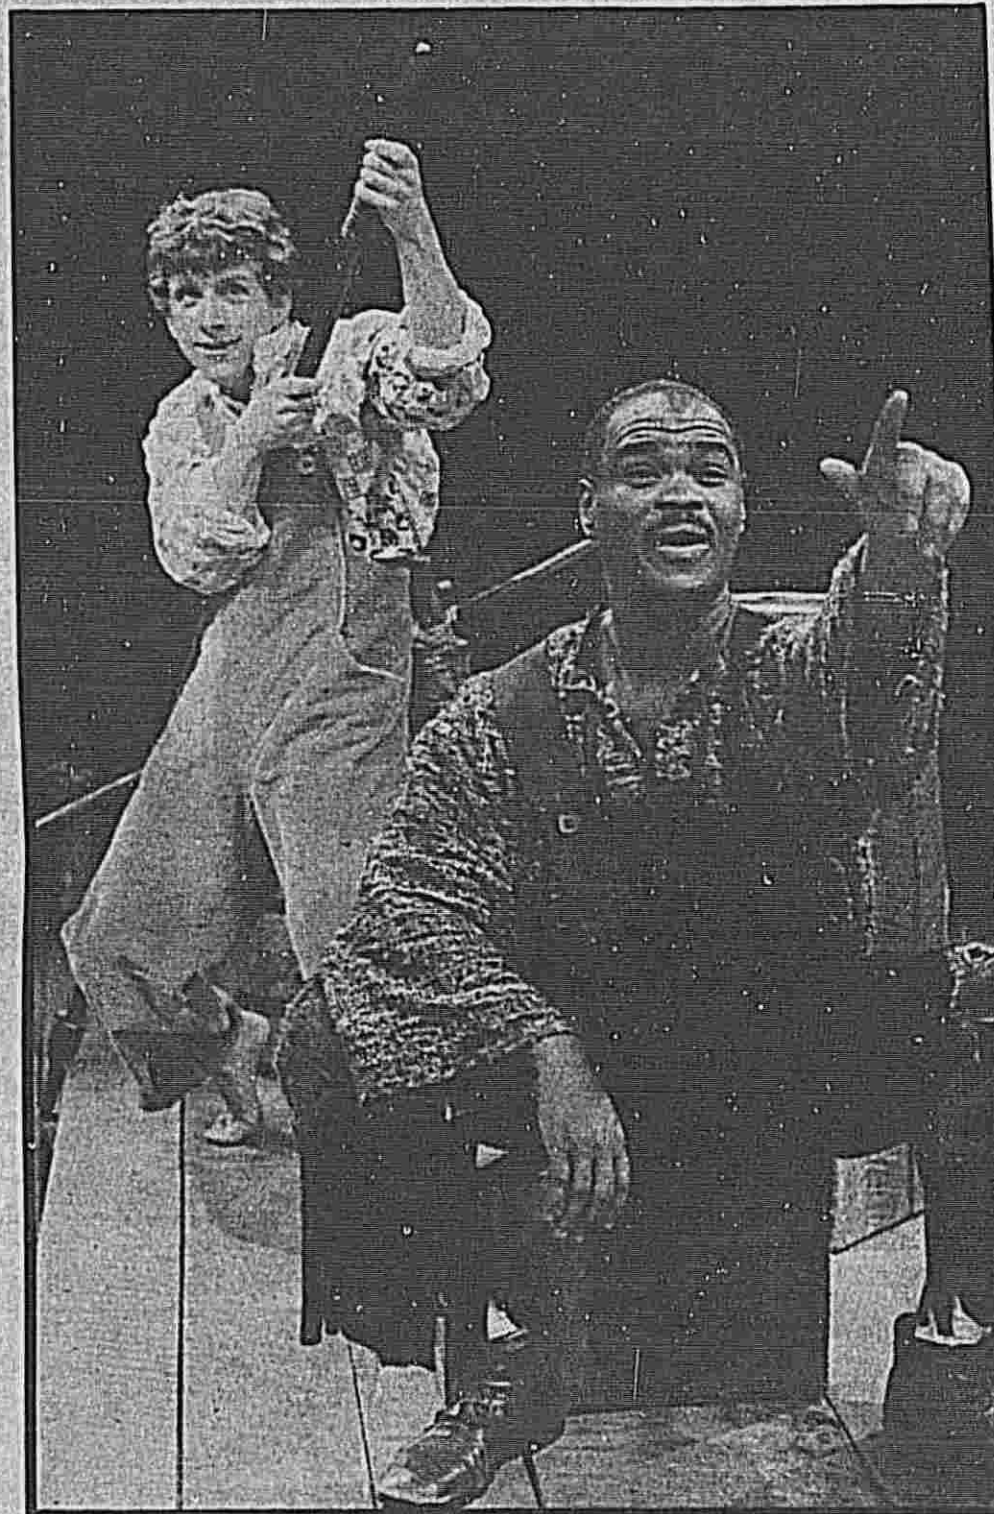

Two popular personalities will visit the show this year. After opening the show at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, Miss America Gretchen Carlson greeted show visitors and was available for pictures. (Wednesday was her only appearance.) On Friday evening, Feb. 24, "Uncle" Bob Collins of WGN radio, will appear in the show auditorium.

Saturday will feature a special bonus - Kodak Photo Day. Photographers with Kodak Film may enter one hour early, 10 a.m., to photograph the gardens and The Hartford House.

The Home & Flower Show is sponsored by the Village of Rosemont and the Professional Remodelers Assn. of Illinois. Hours for the home and flower show are Friday and Saturday, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. that evening.

New parking lots have been added by the O'Hare Expo Center so there will be plenty of parking for this year's show. Visitors can also ride the CTA's O'Hare 'L' Line to the show. A $1 discount on tickets to the show can be obtained from Tue Value Hardware Stores, Dominick's Finer Foods, Citicorp Savings and other area financial institutions and FTD Florists. For show information, telephone (312)888-8326.

Huck Finn at Marriott

'Big River,' the Mark Twain/Roger Miller all-American musical, opened at Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre and will be playing through April 9. Main plot of play concerns the raft trip down the Mississippi taken by Huck Finn, played by William Akey, and runaway slave Jim, played by Michael Lofton.

Dr. Cook
to conduct concerts

The Liberty Fremont Concert Society has announced the appointment of Dr. Larry D. Cook of Skokie as its new conductor. Dr. Cook will assume his duties in time to conduct the society's April 23 concert at Libertyville High School. He was selected from more than 20 well qualified applicants.

He is a member of the staff of the School of Music of Northwestern University, where he holds the positions of director of music at Alice Millar Chapel and associate professor of conducting.

Dr. Cook is a graduate of Hastings College, Hastings, Neb. His master and doctoral degrees were earned at the University of Iowa.

Filleting fish with ax—turns into show itself

As long as I can remember, being a "chip off the old block" was somehow associated with an ax and my father. He was pretty good with an ax and, as a kid, I admired his ability to make the chips fall big and frequent as he hacked backyard logs and limbs into firewood.

It wasn't till last month's All Canada Outdoor and Travel Show at Pheasant Run that I heard an ax credited as suitable for filleting a fish. This was a new cut for outdoor entertainment and worth checking into.

A show seminar centered around filleting with an ax. Ron Booi was the man who did it—a hefty outdoors-

Ron Booi

"Ax me no questions and I'll tell you no lies."

Illinois income taxpayers are reminded that line 11a of their state returns may be

Those who do not pay state income tax can send deductible, personal support checks to the Ill. Dept. of Conservation, Non-game Wildlife Conservation Fund, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, IL 62701. These dollars may be enjoyed personally and by future Illinoisans. Support at this time is a valuable investment.

Ongoing state conservation news can be heard by calling 1-800-624-3077, the conservation hotline. Messages cover current outdoor related state happenings and needs. Example: Fishing licenses should be renewed after the end of March.

With
Colonel

man, who for 40 years has run Booi's Twilight Lodge, near Vermillion Bay in Ontario, Canada.

"One day," he told me, "I had a group of fishing guests out on the lake. About 11 a.m. we pulled into shore for our famed shore lunch, a custom we regularly observed. As guide, I was in charge of getting it prepared. We had the live fish, fat, beans, potatoes and onions, but, would you believe, I forgot my knife. It never happened before."

"I searched through everything twice. I was embarrassed, it just didn't seem right for the host guide to borrow a knife from a guest. Then I remembered my firewood ax, which I had honed to perfection the night before. So, as casually as possible I started filleting the walleyes with that bright, heavy blade. To everyone's amazement, the carefully prepared blade severed so well I had to hold back to keep from cutting too deep. Later, I became the talk of the camp and, eventually, known in the area as the guy who fillets with an ax."

Do you still do this for fishing guests on a shore lunch?

"No, not really," he grinned, "It's still clumsier than a good knife, but when the show people heard the story, they asked me to demonstrate—so here goes."

With that, he produced an old, long-handled broad ax with a 10-in convex cutting blade and proceeded to do his "thing" on a 14-inch walleye. In less than a minute, the first fillet was pan ready on the table. Seeing was believing, but I'll still stick with my fishing knife. As the saying goes, earmarked for the support of state non-game wildlife. Up to $10 in refunds can be donated to conservation, or $20 on a joint return.

Last year, 120 projects such as peregrine falcon husbandry, bluebird re-establishment, Bald Eagle Appreciation Days and wetland and grassland restoration benefited from the $217,000 contributed.

Just For Seniors

Here are some consumer fraud schemes that older people in particular should be aware of: 1) Products advertised as miracle cures—Don't buy any product advertised to treat a condition that medical science has not yet found a cure for. 2) Investment opportunities that are "too good to be true"—If you are asked to withdraw a large sum from your bank account, first talk over your plans with a bank representative. 3) Home repair frauds—Do not agree to let someone "just driving by" work on your home. Shop around before you spend money on home improvements.

It's always easy to see both sides of an issue we are not particularly concerned about.

We offer you excellent nursing care for less than $50/day!

Kids can have fun aboard ship

Lakeland's cruise for kids, too

Kids on a cruise? You bet! A cruise is a wonderful family vacation. You can have them with you, and still have time to yourselves because there are supervised activities for youngsters all week long, and babysitting is available on a limited basis. Even in port, there are special option shore excursions just for children.

Many of the Riviera's staterooms have one or two extra berths, in addition to two lower beds. And they are offered at a much lower cost.

If you bring your kids—or if you are a kid—you'll have the time of your life on the Lakeland News-pers' Cruise to the Caribbean.

It's a marvelous opportunity for children to see a little of the world. And what stories they'll have when they return to their friends, and again in the fall when they get that perennial assignment, "What I Did on My Summer Vacation!"

SO YOU WANT YOUR LUGGAGE TO ARRIVE AT THE SAME AIRPORT YOU DO?

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

There's the story of the guy who checks in at "Fly-by-Night" Airlines with three bags. He asks the clerk at the ticket counter to send one bag to Honolulu, another to New York and the third to Miami. The clerk informs the passenger that there is no way they could do this. The passenger replies, "Why not? You did it last week."

With the thousands of pieces of checked luggage passing through airports every day, it's inevitable that someone is going to be separated from their Samsonite. You can take some steps to reduce your chance of being the one having to find a new wardrobe in Jamaica.

Most luggage gets "lost" because the check-in clerk or skycap put the wrong airport tag on it. Learn the three-letter code for the airport to which you are flying. You can find it on your ticket or ask your travel agent. Some codes are obvious. "MIA" is Miami, "HNL" is Honolulu and "STL" is St. Louis. Others, such as "MCO" is Orlando, and "MCI" for Kansas City are not as apparent. Make sure the check-in clerk puts the tag with the correct code on your bag.

Remove all old airport tags from your luggage. If your suitcase still has the airport tag from your last trip to Rome and this one is to Maui, you may have a long wait for your bags to be delivered.

In addition to the required identification tag on the outside of your luggage, put an ID card in the bag. If your luggage tag is torn off during handling, the airline has no way of reuniting the lost bag and the owner unless there is some form of identification inside.

Finally, do something unique to your bag to identify it on the baggage carousel. More than once, someone has not realized they have taken the wrong bag until they get home and have to explain the women's dresses in their suitcase to their wife!

'Foreigner' in town

Rick Lawrence, left, tries to teach Charlie, played by Peter Thelen, English, as his sister Catherine, played by Colleen Jordan, cheers him on in funny farce.

'Foreigner' ready to say farewell

Larry Shue's comic farce, "The Foreigner", is about to make its farewell performance on the Andres Steakhouse dinner/theatre stage Feb. 24 and 25.

Big audiences have laughed their way through this hilarious comedy. To make sure you get a seat, call (815) 678-2671 for reservations.

The comic thriller, "Cliffhanger", by James

Yaffe is getting ready to open on Saturday and Sunday, March 4 and 5. To catch this show, make reservations early—the opening Sunday performance is already sold out.

Subsequent performances will be on March 10, 11, 12, 17, 18, 19, 24 and 25. This last of the Rosebud Productions' plays for the 1989 dinner/theatre season stars Anne Marie Cina (McHenry) as Polly; Frank Greenwood (Round Lake) as Henry; Rich Foresman (Woodstock) as Melvin; Tracy Kiederlen (Antioch) as Edith; and Fran Jansta (Antioch) as Lt. DeVito.

The play is being directed by Tom Hausman of Antioch (and Wilmet High) and stage managed by Kiederlen. Andres is located on Rte. 12, one-fourth of a mile north of Rte. 173 in Richmond.

Passion on symphony season's agenda

The Waukegan Symphony Orchestra and Chorus will combine forces under the baton of Dr. Don Horisberger to present Bach's "Passion According to St. Matthew", at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 25, in the Genesee Theatre, 205 N. Genesee St., Waukegan.

The work will be performed in celebration of Dr. Horisberger's 10th anniversary season as Waukegan Symphony Chorus director.

First performed 260 years ago, the "St. Matthew Passion" is a setting of the suffering and death of Christ for two choruses and orchestras.

A dramatic and sacred work, the Passion employs arias and recitatives, and as in the tradition of the Baroque oratorios, is not staged. Though originally composed with German text, the work will be performed in a new English translation.

The critically-acclaimed cast of soloists includes tenor Jeffery Fahnestock as the Evangelist, baritone James Watson as Jesus, soprano Toni DiDonato, mezzo-soprano Debra Austin, tenor Edward Ozaki and bass-baritone Thomas Potter.

Tickets are available in advance at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts and the door—adults, $7; seniors, students and military personnel, $4. For more information, call (312) 244-1660.

The Waukegan Symphony Orchestra and

Chorus are sponsored by the Waukegan Park Dist.'s Jack Benny Center for the Arts. Programs are partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency, the National Endowment for the Arts, the City of Waukegan, and the Lake County Arts Council.

Arts council will host 'Springboard'

The Lake County Arts Council (LCAC) will host the fifth annual "Arts are a Springboard" wine and cheese celebration from 4 to 7 p.m. on Sunday, March 5, at the Brae Loch Golf and Banquet facility near Grayslake.

The program will honor Douglas Miller, music program director of David Adler Cultural Center as the 1989 recipient of the LCAC Excellence in the Arts Award, given annually to an individual in recognition of his contributions to the arts in Lake County.

Tickets may be purchased at the door, from LCAC member organizations, or by writing to LCAC, P.O. Box 8849, Waukegan, IL 60079.

Dancer North joins Benny Center program

The winter term at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts will see Dancer North assume the responsibilities of the dance program. This new association comes during the 15th anniversary year of Dancer North which has been training dancers in its Libertyville studios.

Students have been honored as scholarship winners by the Chicago National Assn. of Dance Masters, the Boston Ballet, the Houston Ballet, the Chicago City Ballet and Butler University.

Throughout the Chicago area, young people have received kudos from audiences and notables in the dance world for their excellent training. Students from Dancer North have also appeared on Broadway, television, film, in commercials and print work.

Lynn Schornick, superintendent of cultural arts for the Waukegan Park Dist. said, "This new association brings a consistency in leadership to our dance programs which has been difficult to achieve in the past several years. With our tremendous dance facility in Bowen Park, we hope to offer the best of every possible dance advantage to our students."

The faculty will include Phyllis Warrender and Fred Alexson. Alexson has danced with the Boston Ballet Co., the Boston Opera, the Chicago Ballet Co., the Golden Stage Ballet Co., the Lyric Opera and the Florida Dance Theatre.

He has been on the faculty of many of Chicago's leading dance schools; worked as ballet master, coach and business manager for several leading dancers and respected local dance companies. For the past 12 years, Alexson has been recognized as a notable freelance dance critic.

For information regarding ballet instruction from pre-school to adult ballet, call the Center at (312)244-1660.

Sunbirds to host air school

Sunbirds Flying Assn. and Waukegan Aero are hosting several activities for the enjoyment of pilots and other flying enthusiasts.

On March 10, a lecture on Aviation Safety and Today's Airspace System will be given by Allan Englehardt at 7 p.m.

Englehardt is a National FAA award-winning instructor, pilot, lecturer and founder of the original Flight Standards weekend ground school. This complementary ground school review is open to all aviation enthusiasts.

Cloud Dancer Publications presents a Travel and Adventure Forum on Sunday, March 12 from 11 a.m. - 1 p.m. Publishers Sue Kulik and Ed Beaulieu will offer their recommendations on popular fly-in resorts.

Their video and slide presentation will highlight the discussion to bring out the best of the nation's recreational facilities. Admission is free.

For the 'gambler' in all of us Sunbirds is planning a flying 'poker run' on Saturday, March 25. Anyone can enter to win cash prizes. $10 entry fee.

The third basic orientation course is scheduled for Sunday, April 23. This class is designed for the non-pilot to learn more about airplanes and basic aerodynamics, from noon until 4 p.m. with a $15 reservation fee.

All activities will be held at the Waukegan Aero Terminal Grounds, 3550 N McAcree, Waukegan. For information call 634-0800.

Schools' tax hike tries unnecessary: Petersen

Woodland Dist. 50 and Gurnee Dist. 56 do not deserve the tax increases they are asking voters for in the Feb. 28 election.

That's the opinion of Esper Petersen, who is heading a group called Citizens for Fair Taxation in Warren Twp. The group is urging residents to vote no on both referenda on the ballot.

"Nobody knows there will be an election Tuesday," Petersen said.

Petersen, a former Warren Twp. High School Board of Education member and president, said the elementary districts should "stop wasting money and the tax increases would not be necessary".

Woodland's tax referendum is for a 95 cent tax increase in the education fund. Gurnee 56 is seeking 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuation in the building fund and 65 cents in the education fund.

The building fund increase is intended to be used for a new school, something Petersen said the district does not need.

Petersen claimed the architects for Gurnee 56 tried to condemn the Spaulding School in the flood days of 1986.

Regarding Woodland, he said if the tax increase is passed, the Woodland rate would be the highest in Lake County.

A flier distributed by the group, which has its mailing address in Gurnee, states that the schools tax revenues increased 12 percent last year because of the value of new construction and will enjoy a 15.2 percent hike this year.

The tax increase for Dist. 56 will cost homeowners from $212 to $566 in additional taxes, based on homes worth from $75,000 to $200,000.

At Woodland, the tax increases would be from $237 to $633.

Petersen said the group has studied the projections made by Gurnee Dist. 56 by the LaSalle National Bank study which shows the district could see an additional 500 students in the next few years.

Fliers were distributed in the Wadsworth area Monday.

Petersen said the group will be setting up fundraisers and serve as watchdog organization for public bodies who are considering or attempting to put tax increases on the ballot.

Frecking takes second

Someday in practice, Warren High School wrestling Coach Mark Tiffany many notice a wrestler who needs a little inspiration.

Perhaps he is a bit tired after a hard-fought match or nursing an injury.

Then Tiffany will speak the magic words.

Mike Frecking and Keith Friedman.

Suddenly, the wrestler will perk up, finish the practice in fine fashion.

"He has set a great example for wrestlers showing how hard work can get the job done," Tiffany said of Frecking.

Frecking became the third Warren wrestler ever to earn a place honor at a state meet and first in more than 20 years when he earned second place at 152 pounds.

"He trained and worked so he could have no regrets at the end," Tiffany said of the senior.

Keith Friedman qualified at 130 pounds but was eliminated in the wrestling back round.

Chamber makes its pitch to keep Ft. Sheridan alive

The final chapter about the future of Fort Sheridan may not be written after all.

Not according to North Chicago Chamber of Commerce officials. The future of the base, which has been designated for closure, has led the Chamber's Military Affairs committee to write a letter to Congressman John Porter (R-10th).

"We have concluded through our investigations that the military mission of the Fourth United States Army is best served from the present location at Fort Sheridan. Fort Sheridan is a well-positioned base in the center of the seven-state area for which the Fourth Army is responsible. Within two hours of the base are all but two of the Military Regional Planning Authorities (RPA) for all 13 of the civilian RPA's. This allows for effective and efficient planning," the letter states.

Marty Paulson, chairman of the Military Affairs committee, said letters have also been sent to Rep. Phil Crane and Illinois senators Paul Simon and Allen Dixon.

"We do not feel this is a justifiable closure," Paulson said.

Although Congress may vote to approve the closure list approved by a committee and former Defense Secretary Frank Carlucci, battles still are expected over funding for the closure. If five years elapses and there is no funding, Fort Sheridan would be off the list.

Some 102 jobs from North Chicago and 312 jobs from Waukegan would be lost if the base is closed.

The Northern Defense Command fact sheet reveals that if the Fourth Army was to move, military necessity would dictate a relocation of military to Chicagoland to execute transition in war missions, the letter states.

The present plans are to move Fort Sheridan's missions to Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indiana. But Chamber members said there is no presently available space there.

Paulson discussed the letter during the monthly meeting of the Chamber at the Rathskeller restaurant located at the University of Health Sciences - The Chicago Medical School.

Bob Byrne stated that the General Accounting Office had admitted that the purpose in closing Fort Sheridan would be to "make a big profit".

Pres. Harry on committee

The Office of Catholic Education of the Archdiocese of Chicago has named the president of Carmel High School to a special committee charged with an examination of the marketing of Catholic High Schools within its jurisdiction. The Rev. William J. Harry, O. Carm. joins the marketing director of St. Xavier College, two high school principals and two development directors.

The committee is charged with evaluating the viability of marketing the 50 Catholic high schools within the Archdiocese as a unit. Traditionally each high school did its own marketing.

The committee will report its findings in time for the opening of the 1989-90 school year.

Harry is serving as School for Boys and Carmel Carmel's first president, as- High School for Girls.

Village drags feet on sewer plant: Hansen

by JOSEPH SOULAK
NEWS CORRESPONDENT

"Lake Zurich is using myself and the rest of the County Board for a punching bag," said Bruce Hansen, the Dist. 6 representative on the board about the village's mounting sewerage treatment problems.

"We're accused of dragging our feet and not doing anything to hook up to the Riverwoods plant," Hansen said about telephone calls he has received.

"The truth is we have bent over backwards for Lake Zurich," he said about engineering data presented to village board last fall.

"Ever since that time we have been waiting for a decision, some sort of a commitment," the board member since 1986 said. "I've gone to meetings, pleaded with people and the village board, but no one wants to make a decision."

Hansen and several other Dist. 6. County Board members along with Martin Galantha, superintendent of the Lake County Public Works Dept., will attend a Monday, Feb. 27, meeting at the village hall. The 7:30 p.m. meeting of the Public Works Committee will review the village's mounting sewerage treatment problems.

"The problem is the village has over-issued building permits with no place to treat the effluent," Hansen said. "As a result one plant has odors people don't like and the state Environmental Protection Agency is looking over the village's shoulder."

Lake County is working on a $14 million expansion of its Riverwoods Plant, also known as the Tekara Plant. It is on Milwaukee Ave. in Riverwoods.

Lake Zurich will have to finance construction of a 10-mile interceptor to the plant as well as part of the plant expansion.

This is because Lake County does not have the money to finance a project that will benefit Lake Zurich. Hansen explained all regional treatment plants are on a pay-as-you go basis with users charged monthly service fees. These defray operating costs with some money put into a deferred maintenance and depreciation account.

"This will be the Cadillac of facilities," Hansen said. "But even if Lake Zurich decided to join today it will be three or four years before this option is realized. It takes that long for construction and all details to be worked out."

Hansen said Lake Zurich has not made serious study of its options, the cost or how to underwrite them. "It looks like we are being used as a punching bag in the village's dispute with the EPA," he said. "That's why we are going to Monday's meeting. Not only do we want some answers, possibly a decision. We also want to correct some ideas we are not responding. The village board is the one dragging its feet."

Bruce Hansen

Expansion of the Riverwoods Plant is a matter of time away. Hansen said plans will be vastly different if Lake Zurich decides not to become part of the regional system. The same is true of the cost. "This is decision time," Hansen said. "We don't want to go back to the drawing board again in two years when Lake Zurich might be in deeper trouble."
